Egyptian Plan For Suez Given U. N. Secretary

Proposal Reported To Be Favorable to U. S. Interests

CAIRO (AP)—Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld left for his U. N. headquarters today with Egypt's plan for running the Suez Canal. Informed sources said the plan "won't please everyone but it should be acceptable to the United States."

The plan was not made public officially but the informants said Hammarskjöld has "ameliorated" President Nasser's original views during their talks that began here last week.

"Hammarskjöld had to get the best possible plan out of a bad situation," they added. "Now he will carry the plan to interested parties at the United Nations."

U. N., Egyptian and diplomatic sources said the main provisions of the plan calls for:

All canal tolls to be collected by Egyptian authorities, as previously emphasized by Egypt.

Placing of a fixed percentage of tolls in a separate account for use by a U. N. technical assistance board for maintenance and development of the canal. One report said this would be 25 per cent.

Another percentage to be placed in escrow for settlement of compensation claims by stockholders of the old Suez Canal Co. One source estimated this amount at $ per cent.

Reaffirmation of the 1888 Constantinople Convention to guarantee freedom of shipping through the canal.

Hammarskjöld was said to feel the 1888 convention guaranteeing unhindered access to the canal adequate in its present form, although it might be revised later.

The informants said any country believing the convention was not being carried out could appeal to the World Court.

While the convention calls for freedom of shipping for all nations, Egypt has barred Israeli ships on grounds that a technical state of war still exists between Egypt and Israel. The convention provides for refusal of passage to "enemy" ships.

Hammarskjöld was said to expect that Egypt ultimately will accept some kind of canal users' group to discuss toll rates, canal improvements and similar problems, but the present plan was reported to have left that point unanswered.

Reports from Tucker's Town, Bermuda, where Canadian officials have been getting a rundown on last week's talks between President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Macmillan, said it appeared the United States and Britain were resigned to modifying their demands for international control of the canal.

The tug Edgar Bonnet, last barrier in the Suez Canal to passage of ships of up to 20,000 tons, was lifted from the channel bottom this week and was to be towed out of the way today. Its removal will leave only an official Egyptian OK necessary for resumption of three fourths or more of normal canal traffic.

Vast Purchases For Beck Detailed

UNDER FIFTH AMENDMENT—These close-up photos were taken as Teamsters president Dave Beck made his long-awaited appearance before the Senate Racket committee. Top photos show Beck as he pleaded the Fifth Amendment and lower as he answered a query from one of the committee members.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Nathan Shefferman, Chicago public relations consultant, testified today he made purchases totaling $85,000 for Dave Beck over a period of years ending with 1953. He said "I did not know it was union funds" he used.

Items purchased ranged from washing machines and refrigerators to nylons and "possibly garden hose." And, Shefferman said, he took care of an $8 repair bill for fixing Beck's false teeth in Chicago.

Shefferman said he believed the $85,000 total might include items purchased for Dave Beck Jr. and Mrs. Beck.

The testimony to the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee came under questioning from Robert F. Kennedy, committee counsel, who has charged that Beck channeled that sum out of Teamsters Union funds to his personal use through Shefferman.

Beck, boss of the teamsters, sat behind Shefferman as the public relations consultant testified. Beck smiled at some of Shefferman's testimony.

SHEFFERMAN said that at the time he was buying things for Beck "I think that also according to the records you will find some $400,000 worth of materials were purchased for many people, both in labor and industry, throughout the identical period."

The committee asked Shefferman to identify a list of "samples of items purchased for Dave Beck by Nath Shefferman with teamster union funds."

The list covered a range from $9.68 for five dozen diapers to $1,242.45 for "chairs, table, love-seats, settees, etc."

There was a guffaw from senators as well as spectators when Shefferman read an item of "21 pairs of nylons." He cleared his throat and said: "I happen to know Mr. Beck as a moral man, so it's perfectly all right."

Shefferman explained that he did such buying for union officials, getting them discount rates, as a good will gesture to promote his business.

The hearing was suspended temporarily so that the committee members could go to the Senate floor to vote on legislation pending there.

During this recess, Beck was questioned by newsmen about the item for "five dozen diapers."

"My little niece," he said, "has five children and possibly that could be it. If so there was nothing wrong about it."

BECK SAID Shefferman had been a close friend of many labor leaders including the late William Green, president of the AFL for many years.

"He could buy at a discount," Beck said, "and that's why so many of us bought from him."

"The whole matter of Nathan Shefferman could be settled in a court of law in five minutes."

Beck said the only question would be whether Shefferman was authorized to make the purchases through the discount houses and whether there was an arrangement for repayment.

Asked if everything was repaid, Beck declined to answer.

Mine Deaths Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—Thirty-seven deaths in a West Virginia coal mine explosion last month lifted the number of February coal mine fatalities in the nation to 69, highest monthly toll since December, 1951, the Bureau of Mines reports.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The death toll stands at 36 in the spring snowstorm which hit the Western Plains and in the area it hit hardest there was a feeling today it had brought only limited drought relief.

New Mexico stockmen said they would have been better off without the snow. Some lost their entire herds in the mountainous drifts.

The six-state high plains area which got up to 14 inches of snow and drifts as high as 30 feet still was digging out today. But trains were starting to move again and at least the main roads were open, except in western Kansas.

The six-state area where the storm was a full-blown blizzard—southwest Nebraska, western Kansas, eastern Colorado, northeastern New Mexico and the Oklahoma and Texas Panhandles—makes up a large part of the plains area hard hit by five year sod drought.

But the blizzard's 70- and 80-mile winds scoured much of the crop and grazing land almost bare as they piled the snow up in high drifts.

Crop experts in Kansas, Oklahoma, Nebraska and Texas said the snowfall brightened the drought picture but there was not near enough moisture to break it.

Oklahoma reported heavy damage to peace, pear and plum trees which were in full bloom when the blizzard hit.

Cadet Sealed 8 Days in Car

Runaway Plebe Loses 15 Pounds in Ordeal

WEST POINT, N. Y. (AP)—The mystery of a missing West Point cadet ended Tuesday when he stumbled out of a boxcar of potatoes in Jersey City, N. J.

Jerome Lee Gibbons, 18, was accidentally sealed in the car eight days ago. He nibbled on potatoes to stave off hunger and thirst during his imprisonment.

Military policemen brought the bewildered youth to the academy hospital here. Doctors said he was weak but mentally alert. He had lost 15 pounds and was dried out from lack of water.

Academy authorities said Gibbons ran away on St. Patrick's Day because he was afraid he had flunked a physical aptitude test. But failure wouldn't necessarily mean expulsion.

"I just wanted to get away from it," railroad police quoted the youth as saying.

GIBBONS, a first-year cadet from Fulton, N. Y., said he made his way to Campbell Hall, N. Y., about 30 miles north of here. There he climbed into the boxcar the night of March 18.

Before the train left, the door was sealed. Gibbons was trapped in the darkened car.

The car was ventilated and he had room to move around. He made a bunk with the sacks of potatoes.

The boxcar arrived in the Erie Railroad yards at Jersey City the same night. But a loader did not unseal the car until Tuesday.

The four-inch thick walls of the car apparently muffled Gibbons' cries for help and the hammering of his fists.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Mark Steven Lawrence will come home from the hospital this week, but no one is sure for how long.

The Rev. and Mrs. C. J. Lawrence, parents of the bright-eyed nine-month-old boy, are going to "face each day as it comes and try not to think of the future."

Mark is the victim of porphyria, a rare disease which doctors here believe has never before been recorded in a child so young.

The disease, an inborn mistake in the baby's metabolism, interferes with the conversion of food into living tissues.

And there is no telling when it might strike again.

Mark weathered the first attack by a narrow margin. Doctors said that at one point Mark was clinically "dead." His breathing had stopped for a period of two or three minutes.

Mark was unable to swallow milk. His throat muscles wouldn't work. He couldn't cough or cry with any force and he became irritable and nervous.

It was the child's irritability that led doctors to suspect porphyria which sometimes causes severe jangling and inflammation of many nerves.

A big help to Mark was a tranquilizing drug used in treatment of the mentally ill. It quieted Mark's nerves.

And, the minister said, he and his wife prayed and their friends prayed.

Grocery Holdup Here Solved

Law Net Tightens On Juvenile Crime

A fullscale crackdown on youth-crime here appeared to be making real progress Wednesday morning as three major developments were reported by law enforcement officers.

Within four hours Tuesday —

(1) Police Chief D. Vaiden Long reported that a holdup at Wilson's Market, Columbus Ave., three weeks ago, had been solved with the admission of the robbery by two youths held in Portsmouth;

(2) Police and sheriff's deputies from Portsmouth and Scioto County reported they were "getting along very satisfactorily" in their investigation of four Fayette County youths implicated in robberies there;

(3) Sheriff Orland Hays said that a "mass investigation" of juvenile activities here was "picking up steam."

Iran Bandits Kill 2 Yankees

CHIEF LONG said Portsmouth authorities had told him two youths captured after a grocery robbery in Portsmouth Saturday night had admitted holding up Mrs. Ethel Wilson at her store here Feb. 27. They got $4.

The two are John M. Teeters, 18, and John Adrian Gray, 20, both of Georgetown.

Teeters is in critical condition as a result of a spinal bullet wound he received while fleeing after a grocery robbery in Portsmouth Saturday. He and Gray were admitted to Portsmouth authorities close to 20 grocery robberies in the southern Ohio area during the past year, the officers said.

Chief Long said Washington C. H. authorities "might" go to Portsmouth to question the pair in connection with other robberies around here.

Meanwhile, Detective Harold Tinsley of the Portsmouth Police Department and Deputy James Traylor of the Scioto County Sheriff's department said they were

Olympic Stars Finally Wed in Triple Rites

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP)—Olympic champions Harold Connolly and Olga Fikotova, betrothed in an East-West romance that now threatens religious complications, were married in this capital of Communist Czechoslovakia today.

The handsome Boston hammer-throw king, 26, and his radiant Czechoslovak bride, 24-year-old women's discus queen, disregarded a caution from a Roman Catholic priest and said their vows in successive civil, Roman Catholic and Protestant ceremonies.

Connolly is a Roman Catholic, Olga a Protestant.

The Rev. George Reinberg, who obtained a special dispensation to officiate at the ceremony at a 13th Century Roman Catholic church, said Connolly would be excommunicated for going through the Protestant wedding that followed in the Salvator United Lutheran and Reformed Church.

Olga, a medical student, has applied for a visa to enter the United States. The American consulate said that since the visa would not clear in time for the honeymoon, the couple probably would go to Vienna.

They plan to remain in Europe for several weeks while Connolly gives exhibitions, then go to Boston to live. He is a school teacher there.

Ohioans Tell Experiences On Snowbound Kansas Train

KANSAS CITY (AP)—"Now I know how the Eskimos live."

That is how Miss Norma Duff, 26, of Middletown, Ohio, one of 253 passengers, described two rugged days and nights aboard the Rock Island Railroad's Golden State Limited, buried in a snow-drift near Meade, Kan.

A rescue train picked up all the passengers Tuesday afternoon at Meade and stopped here for two hours late before continuing to Chicago.

Bedraggled but happy chair car passengers agreed with Miss Duff and added their descriptions of darkened coaches, some without water and all without heat in the raging blizzard that stalled the Los Angeles to Chicago train Saturday night. It was late Monday before school buses had taken all the passenger, including 22 children, to Meade. Most of them took turns sleeping in the high school gymnasium.

Some 15 passengers were overcome by foul air Monday in car No. 48, buried and insulated by the snow.

President Says Nation Destined To 'Suffer'

Senator Byrd Reports Chief Already Controls $70 Billion Backlog

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today America is going to suffer if any severe cuts are made in government spending for such things as foreign aid and national defense.

Emphatically, Eisenhower told his news conference he does not believe a cut of up to $5 billion, as suggested by Sen. Byrd (D-Va.), can be made in the administration's $71.8 billion budget without giving up some essential domestic programs.

Actually, Byrd said he believes a cut of $6½ billion is possible. And Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican leader of the Senate, has called for a slash of at least $2 billion.

As for foreign aid, Eisenhower said no dollars being spent today are being spent more wisely for the future peace and prosperity of the world than those being put into the mutual security fund.

Eisenhower spent a good part of his half-hour news conference expounding his views regarding demands in Congress for substantial reductions in the budget for the fiscal year starting July 1.

OVER AND OVER, he expressed the view that substantial reductions would mean elimination or drastic curtailment of important programs.

He did go on to say that there are ways—in the field of government spending in connection with the states, for example—where it may be possible to save some money.

Byrd declared today that Eisenhower controls a backlog of $70 billion in available funds and, as a result, the senator said, Congress can't make any "real reduction" in spending without Eisenhower's help.

Byrd said the lawmakers can cut the President's new money requests and still not achieve any real reductions in expenditures unless Eisenhower cooperates.

"I fully realize the responsibility for enacting appropriations rests in Congress," Byrd said, "but the President controls the rate and the time of expenditures. It is my firm conviction that coordinate action between the President and the Congress is essential to bring about retrenchment."

Knowland said that while the administration is giving intensive study to possible economies, he does not expect Eisenhower to submit any specific recommendations in this field.

THE CONFERENCE ranged over these other subjects:

Bermuda — Eisenhower replied no, not at all, when asked whether the Bermuda agreement to furnish guided missiles to Britain would result in any increase in U. S. production of atomic weapons. He went on to say that Britain already is producing certain fission weapons, and that the Bermuda agreement means this country will help out.

Fifth Amendment — With the Dave Beck case in the headlines, Eisenhower said there is no doubt that in some instances the Fifth Amendment is an absolute safeguard to the rights of Americans or it wouldn't have been written into the Constitution.

Eisenhower went on to say, however, that he does share the common belief that a man who invokes the Fifth Amendment does so because he has something he does not want to tell.

British Labor Strife Growing

LONDON (AP)—Union bosses to day ordered 500,000 more factory workers to walk off their jobs Saturday in the second stage of a "snowball" strike to shut down some of Britain's key dollar earning industries.

The strike began last weekend with a million employees quitting work in selected aviation, electrical and machine tool factories.

The Confederation of Shipbuilding and Engineering Unions said it was now calling on its members in the London area to stop work Saturday because of "the complete refusal of the engineering employers to negotiate" a 10 per cent wage increase.

Egyptian Plan For Suez Given U. N. Secretary

Proposal Reported To Be Favorable to U. S. Interests

CAIRO (AP)—Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld left for his U. N. headquarters today with Egypt's plan for running the Suez Canal. Informed sources said the plan "won't please everyone but it should be acceptable to the United States."

The plan was not made public officially but the informants said Hammarskjöld has "ameliorated" President Nasser's original views during their talks that began here last week.

"Hammarskjöld had to get the best possible plan out of a bad situation," they added. "Now he will carry the plan to interested parties at the United Nations."

U. N., Egyptian and diplomatic sources said the main provisions of the plan calls for:

All canal tolls to be collected by Egyptian authorities, as previously emphasized by Egypt.

Placing of a fixed percentage of tolls in a separate account for use by a U. N. technical assistance board for maintenance and development of the canal. One report said this would be 25 per cent.

Another percentage to be placed in escrow for settlement of compensation claims by stockholders of the old Suez Canal Co. One source estimated this amount at 5 per cent.

Reaffirmation of the 1888 Constantinople Convention to guarantee freedom of shipping through the canal.

Hammarskjöld was said to feel the 1888 convention guaranteeing unhindered access to the canal adequate in its present form, although it might be revised later.

The informants said any country believing the convention was not being carried out could appeal to the World Court.

While the convention calls for freedom of shipping for all nations, Egypt has barred Israeli ships on grounds that a technical state of war still exists between Egypt and Israel. The convention provides for refusal of passage to "enemy" ships.

Hammarskjöld was said to expect that Egypt ultimately will accept some kind of canal users' group to discuss toll rates, canal improvements and similar problems, but the present plan was reported to have left that point unanswered.

Reports from Tucker's Town, Bermuda, where Canadian officials have been getting a rundown on last week's talks between President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Macmillan, said it appeared the United States and Britain were resigned to modifying their demands for international control of the canal.

The tug Edgar Bonnet, last barrier in the Suez Canal to passage of ships of up to 20,000 tons, was lifted from the channel bottom this week and was to be towed out of the way today. Its removal will leave only an official Egyptian OK necessary for resumption of three-fourths or more of normal canal traffic.

O'Neill Mum On New Road Patrol Boss

COLUMBUS (AP)—Gov. C. William O'Neill says he has given no thought to naming a replacement for Col. George W. Mingle as superintendent of the Ohio Highway Patrol. Mingle, 57, announced Tuesday he will resign from the highway post about May 1 to assume duties as city manager of Portsmouth.

Mingle will replace Robert Layton as Portsmouth city manager. Layton resigned the $12,000-a-year post during the 7½-month Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. strike which was settled recently. He went to Gainesville, Fla.

Mingle spent many days in Portsmouth during the strike, both in directing highway patrolmen sent there to guard against violence and in conferring with various groups about maintaining law and order.

He said he has no definite "pre-plans" about the city manager's post but will work with all sections of government.

Mingle, with the patrol 23 years, has been its superintendent for nearly 13 years.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A special Defense Department committee says a military pay plan based on skill and merit could cut defense costs by $5 billion dollars a year and might even make the draft unnecessary.

Chairman Ralph Cordiner of the committee told a news conference Tuesday the Defense Department should discard its present "antiquated" pay system and "pay people what their services are actually worth."

A total manpower cut of 200,000 could be made if the recommendations were put into effect, Cordiner calculated.

Grocery Holdup Here Solved

Law Net Tightens On Juvenile Crime

A fullscale crackdown on youthful crime here appeared to be making real progress Wednesday morning as three major developments were reported by law enforcement officers.

Within four hours Tuesday —

(1) Police Chief D. Valden Long reported that a holdup at Wilson's Market, Columbus Ave., three weeks ago, had been solved with the admission of the robbery by two youths held in Portsmouth; (2) Police and sheriff's deputies from Portsmouth and Scioto County reported they were "getting along very satisfactorily" in their investigation of four Fayette County youths implicated in robberies there;

(3) Sheriff Orland Hays said that a "mass investigation" of juvenile activities here was "picking up steam."

CHIEF LONG said Portsmouth authorities had told him two youths captured after a grocery robbery in Portsmouth Saturday night had admitted holding up Mrs. Ethel Wilson at her store here Feb. 27. They got $4.

The two are John M. Teeters, 18, and John Adrian Gray, 20, both of Georgetown.

Teeters is in critical condition as a result of a spinal bullet wound he received while fleeing after a grocery robbery in Portsmouth Saturday night. He and Gray have admitted to Portsmouth authorities close to 20 grocery robberies in the southern Ohio area during the past year, the officers said.

Chief Long said Washington C. H. authorities "might" go to Portsmouth to question the pair in connection with other robberies around here.

Meanwhile, Detective Harold Tinsley of the Portsmouth Police Department and Deputy James Traylor of the Scioto County sheriff's department said they were

Iran Bandits Kill 2 Yankees

Officials Ambushed; Wife of One Kidnaped

TEHRAN (AP)—Two American aid officials were murdered and the wife of one of them kidnaped when bandits attacked their cars Sunday night, Gen. Allanghi Golpiri, commander in chief of the Iranian police, announced today.

Golpiri said two Iranians also were killed in the incident.

The U. S. Embassy withheld identification of the Americans but one source said the dead were:

Kevin M. Carroll, 37, of Issaquah, Wash., a Point Four area development adviser for Kerman, Iran, since 1954, and Brewster A. Wilson, 35, of Portland, Ore., block development specialist of the Near East Foundation and contractor for the International Cooperation Administration in Iran.

Golpiri said the kidnaped woman was Carroll's wife.

The general said the party was driving in two cars from Iran-shahr, in southeastern Iran, to Port Chahbahar, on the Persian Gulf, when the bandits attacked.

HE SAID THE Americans exchanged fire with their attackers for nearly an hour, but the bandits finally reached the cars and attacked the occupants with knives.

The slayings and kidnaping were disclosed as James Richards, who is President Eisenhower's special ambassador for his Middle East program, concluded talks with Iranian officials.

A joint communique announced that the United States would boost its financial aid to Iran's military development program and also provide additional military equipment.

New York Central Walkout Averted

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—A threatened strike of nearly 6,000 New York Central Railroad employees has been called off. The National Mediation Board said it would arbitrate the dispute.

Members of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen in the road's eastern division voted last week to walk off their jobs Thursday.

A union spokesman said the mediation board's announcement automatically stayed the strike.

Ohioans Tell Experiences On Snowbound Kansas Train

KANSAS CITY (AP)—"Now I know how the Eskimos live."

That is how Miss Norma Duff, 26, of Middletown, Ohio, one of 253 passengers, described two rugged days and nights aboard the Rock Island Railroad's Golden State Limited, buried in a snow-drift near Meade, Kan.

A rescue train picked up all the passengers Tuesday afternoon at Meade and stopped here for two hours late before continuing to Chicago.

Bedraggled but happy chair car passengers agreed with Miss Duff and added their descriptions of darkened coaches, some without water and all without heat in the raging blizzard that stalled the Los Angeles to Chicago train Saturday night. It was late Monday before school buses had taken all the passengers, including 22 children, to Meade. Most of them took turns sleeping in the high school gymnasium.

Some 15 passengers were overcome by foul air Monday in car No. 48, buried and insulated by the snow.

Mrs. Irene McHugh of Los Angeles and her baby daughter, Adele, both were overcome.

Miss Duff, helping Mrs. McHugh watch over the sleeping Adele, described their plight this way:

"I felt like I was in an igloo. We didn't have the kind of clothes for it, though. It was terribly cold and we had to open doors and kick out some windows to let fresh air in. The snow was clear up past the windows and almost over the top of the coach."

"We tore down the curtains from the windows to try to wrap our legs and keep warm. We didn't have anything to eat for one day and very little until the whirlybirds came over and dropped some food."

"I never was so glad to get out of anywhere as I was to get into that bus that took us in to Meade. Those people were wonderful. I didn't know coffee could taste so good."

Mrs. Hazel Hunter, 55, of Williamsburg, Ohio, said she and others were afraid to sleep at night for fear of "being gassed."

"Many of us prayed at night but there was no panic," she said.

President Says Nation Destined To 'Suffer'

Senator Byrd Reports Chief Already Controls $70 Billion Backlog

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today America is going to suffer if any severe cuts are made in government spending for such things as foreign aid and national defense.

Emphatically, Eisenhower told his news conference he does not believe a cut of up to $5 billion, as suggested by Sen. Byrd (D-Va.), can be made in the administration's $71.8 billion budget without giving up some essential domestic programs.

Actually, Byrd said he believes a cut of $6½ billion is possible. And Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican leader of the Senate, has called for a slash of at least $2 billion.

As for foreign aid, Eisenhower said no dollars being spent today are being spent more wisely for the future peace and prosperity of the world than those being put into the mutual security fund.

Eisenhower spent a good part of his half-hour news conference expounding his views regarding demands in Congress for substantial reductions in the budget for the fiscal year starting July 1.

OVER AND OVER, he expressed the view that substantial reductions would mean elimination or drastic curtailment of important programs.

He did go on to say that there are ways—in the field of government spending in connection with the states, for example—where it may be possible to save some money.

Byrd declared today that Eisenhower controls a backlog of $70 billion in available funds and, as a result, the senator said, Congress can't make any "real reduction" in spending without Eisenhower's help.

Byrd said the lawmakers can cut the President's new money requests and still not achieve any real reductions in expenditures unless Eisenhower cooperates.

"I fully realize the responsibility for enacting appropriations rests in Congress," Byrd said, "but the President controls the rate and the time of expenditures. It is my firm conviction that coordinate action between the President and the Congress is essential to bring about retrenchment."

Knowland said that while the administration is giving intensive study to possible economies, he does not expect Eisenhower to submit any specific recommendations in this field.

THE CONFERENCE ranged over these other subjects:

Bermuda—Eisenhower replied no, not at all, when asked whether the Bermuda agreement to furnish guided missiles to Britain would result in any increase in U. S. production of atomic weapons. He went on to say that Britain already is producing certain fission weapons, and that the Bermuda agreement means this country will help out.

Fifth Amendment—With the Dave Beck case in the headlines, Eisenhower said there is no doubt that in some instances the Fifth Amendment is an absolute safeguard to the rights of Americans or it wouldn't have been written into the Constitution.

Eisenhower went on to say, however, that he does share the common belief that a man who invokes the Fifth Amendment does so because he has something he does not want to tell.

British Labor Strife Growing

LONDON (AP)—Union bosses today ordered 500,000 more factory workers to walk off their jobs Saturday in the second stage of a "snowball" strike to shut down some of Britain's key dollar earning industries.

The strike began last weekend with a million employees quitting work in selected aviation, electrical and machine tool factories.

The Confederation of Shipbuilding and Engineering Unions said it was now calling on its members in the London area to stop work Saturday because of "the complete refusal of the engineering employers to negotiate" a 10 per cent wage increase.

Driver Is Fined After Collision

Woman Shaken Up
In Fayette St. Crash

One man was fined in Municipal Court Wednesday for driving without a license following a two-car collision at the corner of Fayette and Elm Sts. about 7:15 p. m. Tuesday.

Ralph G. Newland, 54, of Sabina, was fined $25 and cost after he was arrested in connection with a collision in which an 83-year-old woman was badly shaken up.

Police said Newland's auto was going west on Elm St. when it collided with an auto driven by Charles S. Hooks, 40, of 1103 S. Main St.

Mrs. William Ramey, 1115 S. Main, was badly shaken up in the crash, but not hospitalized.

Damage to Newland's car was confined to the bumper and right front fender. The right rear fender and the bumper of Hooks' auto was damaged.

IN ANOTHER collision here, a car driven by Mrs. Mary Miller, 44, of 408 Van Deman Ave., collided with one driven by Courtney Gibboney, 76, of near Washington C. H. The accident occurred at the corner of Paint and N. Main Sts. about 3:45 p. m. Tuesday.

Gibboney told police he had started to pull out from the curb when the cars collided. Mrs. Miller reported she was travelling west on Paint St. when Gibboney's car came out from the curb.

Damage to Mrs. Miller's car was on the right door and the side panel. The front bumper of Gibboney's car was damaged.

No arrests were made.

Law Net Tightens

"going well" in the investigation of the quartet of admitted burglars captured here Monday night.

THE FOUR, three 16-year-old and 18-year-old, Roger Mossbarger of Good Hope, have confessed to about a dozen robberies in Fayette County and elsewhere, including four break-ins in Portsmouth and Scioto County.

While the Portsmouth and Scioto County officers were here, Sheriff Hays was carrying on a full-scale interrogation of a large group of Washington C. H. and Fayette County juveniles, and said that "a major brake" in juvenile crime activities here seemed likely.

The sheriff said he and Deputy Don Thompson seemed "very close" to cracking a number of cases here, believed to involve juveniles.

No arrests had been made in addition to the four Monday, but the sheriff said that some seemed "very likely" soon.

Spare Those Ragged Trees, Woodman!

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Drought has killed thousands of trees in Oklahoma, and the Game and Fish Department is asking woodsmen to spare the hollow ones.

Dave Ware, director of the department, says that the hollow trees "may not look like much to the casual observer, but from the conservation's point of view they are among the most important trees in the woods."

He pointed out they provide homes for some animals and food for others.

Traffic Tickets

FRED LEWIS holds a seven-foot string of 22 traffic tickets in Los Angeles, all slapped on him in one gruesome night when he tried to elude police on his motorcycle. He pleaded guilty to the reckless driving charge, so the other 21 were dropped. He faces a hearing April 15. (International)

Farmer's Luck

DANVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A local farmer touched by appeals in behalf of flood victims in Eastern Kentucky, was more generous than he planned.

After drawing money from the bank to pay a bill, he pocketed the cash.

His wife, also generous and a fast worker when on a project, was packing clothes for refugees and persuaded her husband to surrender his trousers.

When the clothing reached Mrs. R. E. Wortham, she found the trousers and the wallet with $158. She telephoned the owner that the money was being returned.

Congressional Districts Get Study in Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An echo of the 1956 congressional election will be heard in the Ohio Senate today.

The Senate is going to try to nail down—once and for all—the question of how to determine the most populous county in an Ohio congressional district.

There was a fat hassle in the 11th District—made up of the counties in the northeastern corner of Ohio—last year over whether Trumbull or Ashtabula was the county with the largest population.

Several congressional candidates filed their nominating petitions in Ashtabula County on grounds it was the most populous "whole county."

The law requires that nomination petitions must be filed in the most populous county.

But a part of Trumbull County is in the 11th District. Even that part of Trumbull County in the district has more population than any whole county in the district.

Ten other candidates filed at Warren, county seat of Trumbull County. Their petitions were accepted. The petitions of those who filed in Ashtabula County were thrown out. A lawsuit resulted, but the Ohio Supreme Court held those who filed in Trumbull County were correct.

Today's bill, sponsored by freshman Sen. C. Lee Mantle (R-Lake), seeks to write into the law exactly what the high court ruled—that congressional petitions must be filed in the most populous county in the district, whether it's a whole or part of a county.

Cops Cover Trucker

LOCK HAVEN, Pa. (AP)—A truck driver's plea for help ended in a police coup.

A policeman was called to the truck and the trucker displayed his dilemma. He had ripped the seat from his pants climbing into the cab.

With $5 from the trucker, the policeman went to a store and bought a new pair of pants. The trucker wasn't wearing shorts.

Mrs. Cline Deere, deputy clerk of courts, has returned to her duties at the Court House after a six-week absence due to illness.

Mrs. Ralph Barger of near Mt. Sterling suffered a possible fracture of her right ankle in a fall from her porch at home. She was treated at Memorial Hospital Tuesday and released.

Mrs. John L. Huff, 727 Clinton Ave., was treated at Memorial Hospital for a wrist pain Tuesday and released.

Dr. Fred D. Woollard is attending a staff meeting of the Medical Advisory Staff, today, at the O. S. and S. O. home in Xenia.

Airman third class Fred Luster Coldiron, a former resident of Washington C. H., is spending a 14-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Coldiron, Deshler, Ohio and also with relatives in this city. He has just completed an 18-week electrical course at Chanute A. F. B. and will report back for duty in Washington.

Dwight B. Ireland, former principal of Washington C. H. High School, now Superintendent of Schools in Birmingham, Michigan, is the author of two recent magazine articles on school problems. He wrote "Discovering and Utilizing Student Potentials within the School," for a Michigan school magazine, and "Color Courts and Child Scale Size Make This a Home-Like School," for the national-circulated publication, Nation's Schools. The latter concerned a new school in his district.

Deloracy Carson Loses Again in Supreme Court

Deloracy Carson, 46, of 227 Olive St., convicted in Municipal Court here of driving while drunk, today met her second setback of the month in the Ohio Supreme Court when the court refused to reconsider its March 13 decision refusing to review the case.

Arrested Nov. 3, 1954, the first jury to hear her case in Municipal Court, with Judge Max G. Dice presiding, could not reach an agreement, but the second one found her guilty on May 27, 1955.

She carried her case to the district Court of Appeals, which upheld the conviction by Municipal Court.

She was then fined $200 and costs, sentenced to 10 days in jail and suspended from driving for a year by Judge Dice.

When her case was taken to the Supreme Court, execution of the sentence was held up and she was released on $350 bond.

Now, with the Supreme Court's refusal to reconsider its dismissal of the case March 13, the sentence becomes effective again. Execution of the sentence, Police Chief D. Vaiden Long said, will be carried out as soon as an order is issued by Judge Dice.

Thus, the three-year legal battle through three courts by Mrs. Carson appears to be approaching an end.

Right-to-Work beater

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP)—The Wyoming Legislature has kept intact its boast of having the shortest sessions of any state.

Boy Science Whiz Ups His TV Earnings

NEW YORK (AP)—Robert Strom, 10-year-old science whiz, Tuesday night flashed to the $96,000 level in his bid to win a possible $256,000 on a television quiz show.

The Bronx schoolboy breezed through a complicated six-part question on fluorescent lamps and electricity. That added $16,000 to his previous $80,000 winnings.

Next week he will return to try for $128,000.

Tuesday night Robert was shown the component parts of an electric fluorescent circuit. He was given this introductory statement:

In this fluorescent lamp an electric arc flows through a certain vapor and transforms electrical watt input into radiation at a certain wave length. This radiation, in turn, excites the phosphor coating on the inside of the lamp.

Young Strom swiftly answered: The wave length is 2537 angstroms; mercury is the vapor; argon is the other principal gas inside the lamp; ultraviolet is the radiation.

In the fifth part of the question he correctly explained that a 60-

Hippos' Feelings Guide State Action

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The state of Wisconsin has postponed indefinitely its plan to recharge a deep well, because of two hippopotamuses.

Plans were going ahead to pump water into the well at Washington Park near the city zoo when zoo officials realized this would mean the well would have to be shut down. The zoo would have to use city water for a while, and this is something Tony and Cleo, the hippopotamuses, couldn't stand. City water is too cold.

So the state decided to call off its experiment.

Driver Is Fined After Collision

Woman Shaken Up In Fayette St. Crash

One man was fined in Municipal Court Wednesday for driving without a license following a two-car collision at the corner of Fayette and Elm Sts. about 7:15 p. m. Tuesday.

Ralph G. Newland, 54, of Sabina, was fined $25 and cost after he was arrested in connection with a collision in which an 83-year-old woman was badly shaken up.

Police said Newland's auto was going west on Elm St. when it collided with an auto driven by Charles S. Hooks, 40, of 1103 S. Main St.

Mrs. William Ramey, 1115 S. Main, was badly shaken up in the crash, but not hospitalized.

Damage to Newland's car was confined to the bumper and right front fender. The right rear fender and the bumper of Hooks' auto was damaged.

IN ANOTHER collision here, a car driven by Mrs. Mary Miller, 44, of 408 Van Deman Ave., collided with one driven by Courtney Gibboney, 76, of near Washington C. H. The accident occurred at the corner of Paint and N. Main Sts. about 3:45 p. m. Tuesday.

Gibboney told police he had started to pull out from the curb when the cars collided. Mrs. Miller reported she was travelling west on Paint St. when Gibboney's car came out from the curb.

Damage to Mrs. Miller's car was on the right door and the side panel. The front bumper of Gibboney's car was damaged.

No arrests were made.

Law Net Tightens

"going well" in the investigation of the quartet of admitted burglars captured here Monday night.

THE FOUR, three 16-year-old and 18-year-old, Roger Mossbarger of Good Hope, have confessed to about a dozen robberies in Fayette County and elsewhere, including four break-ins in Portsmouth and Scioto County.

While the Portsmouth and Scioto County officers were here, Sheriff Hays was carrying on a fullscale interrogation of a large group of Washington C. H. and Fayette County juveniles, and said that "a major break" in juvenile crime activities here seemed likely.

The sheriff said he and Deputy Don Thompson seemed "very close" to cracking a number of cases here, believed to involve juveniles.

No arrests had been made in addition to the four Monday, but the sheriff said that some seemed "very likely" soon.

Spare Those Ragged Trees, Woodman!

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Drought has killed thousands of trees in Oklahoma, and the Game and Fish Department is asking woodsmen to spare the hollow ones.

Dave Ware, director of the department, says that the hollow trees "may not look like much to the casual observer, but from the conservation's point of view they are among the most important trees in the woods."

He pointed out they provide homes for some animals and food for others.

Traffic Tickets

FRED LEWIS holds a seven-foot string of 22 traffic tickets in Los Angeles, all slapped on him in one gruesome night when he tried to elude police on his motorcycle. He pleaded guilty to the reckless driving charge, so the other 21 were dropped. He faces a hearing April 15. (International)

Farmer's Luck

DANVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A local farmer touched by appeals in behalf of flood victims in Eastern Kentucky, was more generous than he planned.

After drawing money from the bank to pay a bill, he pocketed the cash.

His wife, also generous and a fast worker when on a project, was packing clothes for refugees and persuaded her husband to surrender his trousers.

When the clothing reached Mrs. R. E. Wortham, she found the trousers and the wallet with $158. She telephoned the owner that the money was being returned.

Congressional Districts Get Study in Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An echo of the 1956 congressional election, will be heard in the Ohio Senate today.

The Senate is going to try to nail down—once and for all—the question of how to determine the most populous county in an Ohio congressional district.

There was a fat hassle in the 11th District—made up of the counties in the northeastern corner of Ohio—last year over whether Trumbull or Ashtabula was the county with the largest population.

Several congressional candidates filed their nominating petitions in Ashtabula County on grounds it was the most populous "whole county."

The law requires that nomination petitions must be filed in the most populous county.

But a part of Trumbull County is in the 11th District. Even that part of Trumbull County in the district has more population than any whole county in the district.

Ten other candidates filed at Warren, county seat of Trumbull County. Their petitions were accepted. The petitions of those who filed in Ashtabula County were thrown out. A lawsuit resulted, but the Ohio Supreme Court held those who filed in Trumbull County were correct.

Today's bill, sponsored by freshman Sen. C. Lee Mantle (R-Lake), seeks to write into the law exactly what the high court ruled—that congressional petitions must be filed in the most populous county in the district, whether it's a whole or part of a county.

Cops Cover Trucker

LOCK HAVEN, Pa. (AP)—A truck driver's plea for help ended in a police roundup.

A policeman was called to the truck and the trucker displayed his dilemma. He had ripped the seat from his pants climbing into the cab.

With $5 from the trucker, the policeman went to a store and bought a new pair of pants. They were badly needed. The trucker wasn't wearing shorts.

Mrs. Cline Deere, deputy clerk of courts, has returned to her duties at the Court House after a six-week absence due to illness.

Mrs. Ralph Barger of near Mt. Sterling suffered a possible fracture of her right ankle in a fall from her porch at her home. She was treated at Memorial Hospital Tuesday and released.

Mrs. John L. Huff, 727 Clinton Ave., was treated at Memorial Hospital for a wrist pain Tuesday and released.

Dr. Fred D. Woollard is attending a staff meeting of the Medical Advisory Staff, today, at the O. S. and S. O. home in Xenia.

Airman third class Fred Luster Coldiron, a former resident of Washington C. H., is spending a 14-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Coldiron, Deshler, Ohio and also with relatives in this city. He has just completed an 18-week electrical course at Chanute A. F. B. and will report back for duty in Washington.

Dwight B. Ireland, former principal of Washington C. H. High School, now Superintendent of Schools in Birmingham, Michigan, is the author of two recent magazine articles on school problems. He wrote "Discovering and Utilizing Student Potentials within the School," for a Michigan school magazine, and "Color Courts and Child Scale Size Make This a Home-Like School," for the national-circulated publication, Nation's Schools. The latter concerned a new school in his district.

Deloracy Carson Loses Again in Supreme Court

Deloracy Carson, 46, of 227 Olive St., convicted in Municipal Court here of driving while drunk, today met her second set-back of the month in the Ohio Supreme Court when the court refused to reconsider its March 13 decision refusing to review the case.

Arrested Nov. 3, 1954, the first jury to hear her case in Municipal Court, with Judge Max G. Dice presiding, could not reach an agreement, but the second one found her guilty on May 27, 1955.

She carried her case to the district Court of Appeals, which upheld the conviction by Municipal Court.

She was then fined $200 and costs, sentenced to 10 days in jail and suspended from driving for a year by Judge Dice.

When her case was taken to the Supreme Court, execution of the sentence was held up and she was released on $350 bond.

Now, with the Supreme Court's refusal to reconsider its dismissal of the case March 13, the sentence becomes effective again. Execution of the sentence, Police Chief D. Vaiden Long said, will be carried out as soon as an order is issued by Judge Dice.

Thus, the three-year legal battle through three courts by Mrs. Carson appears to be approaching an end.

Boy Science Whiz Ups His TV Earnings

NEW YORK (AP)—Robert Strom, 10-year-old science whiz, Tuesday night flashed to the $96,000 level in his bid to win a possible $256,000 on a television quiz show.

The Bronx schoolboy breezed through a complicated six-part question on fluorescent lamps and electricity. That added $16,000 to his previous $80,000 winnings.

Next week he will return to try for $128,000.

Tuesday night Robert was shown the component parts of an electric fluorescent circuit. He was given this introductory statement:

In this fluorescent lamp an electric arc flows through a certain vapor and transforms electrical watt input into radiation at a certain wave length. This radiation, in turn, excites the phosphor coating on the inside of the lamp.

Young Strom swiftly answered: The wave length is 2537 angstroms; mercury is the vapor; argon is the other principal gas inside the lamp; ultraviolet is the radiation.

In the fifth part of the question he correctly explained that a 60-

Hippos' Feelings Guide State Action

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The state of Wisconsin has postponed indefinitely its plan to recharge a deep well, because of two hippopotamuses.

Plans were going ahead to pump water into the well at Washington Park near the city zoo when zoo officials realized this would mean the well would have to be shut down. The zoo would have to use city water for a while, and this is something Tony and Cleo, the hippopotamuses, couldn't stand. City water is too cold.

So the state decided to call off its extremists.

Penney Remodeling Program Completed

A completely remodeled, air-conditioned and restocked J. C. Penney Co. store will be unveiled here Friday.

Restyled from the inside of the front windows to the rear of the display area, the local store, managed by Gilbert C. Crouse, has been given the "open-sell" merchandising treatment.

Customers can make their own selections from modern racks and display tables, but with no sacrifice of the traditional Penney Co. customer-clerk relationship.

At least one familiar gadget is missing in the dressed-up store: the old "cable cup" cash system has been discarded in favor of conveniently placed cash registers.

AND THE FORMER cashier's cage in the east balcony is now a part of the manager's office which is in telephone communication with every one of the store's departments.

The entire east balcony has been converted into "office area", but room was left for a handy cloak room for women clerks — thoughtfully equipped with a hotplate-refrigerator combination for coffee and soft drinks.

The remodeling project, first major change at the store in the last 16 years, also includes reconditioning of the heating system; new display helps; an easy-to-see departmental directory and redecorating in soft pastel colors.

CROUSE POINTS OUT that among the new lines now carried in the Washington C. H. store are official Boy Scout, Cub Scout and Explorer Scout uniforms and accessories. The store, located at 119 N. Main St., here has the exclusive Fayette-Highland franchise for these items.

The store was established in March of 1924 and was last remodeled after a fire in 1941.

Crouse, a veteran of 28 years with the J. C. Penney Co., will complete 16 years as Washington C. H. manager on July 5.

Lemuel Trotter Labeled as Sane

CINCINNATI (AP)—Lemuel Trotter, charged with slaying a policeman during a holdup on Sept. 5, 1955, has been declared legally sane by three psychiatrists.

He had pleaded innocent of the shooting of detective Walter Hart because of insanity.

"He is not mentally retarded, his intellectual status being that of low average level," the psychiatrists reported.

Trotter is scheduled to go on trial April 22.

Robert L. Jackson, 40, who allegedly participated in the holdup of the cafe at which Hart was slain, is under sentence of death. Willie Barnett, the third member of the holdup gang, was adjudged insane.

Democrat Office Files Ransacked

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Democratic National Committee's offices were ransacked Tuesday night and "files were pulled open and disturbed."

Samuel C. Brightman, director of public affairs for the committee, said files in the library and Chairman Paul M. Butler's office were opened and papers strewn about.

"It apparently wasn't vandalism," Brightman said. "The assumption would be that they were after something. Just what is a little baffling to me."

WHSCounseling Program Given New Emphasis

Students, Parents In Closer Contact With School Faculty

Convinced that students will get more out of their high school education by taking the courses for which they are best suited and which best prepare them for the path they want to follow after graduation, Washington C. H. High School authorities are now getting started a program of counseling with both students and parents.

John Trace, high school principal, has held two meetings with the approximately 164 eighth grade students who will enter high school next fall.

Parents of the eighth graders have been asked to come to a meeting Friday night in the high school auditorium while the eighth graders are having their party in the gymnasium.

At this meeting, Trace and several teachers will explain to the parents the different courses offered in the high school and what the requirements for graduation are.

FIVE BASIC courses are offered: (1) college preparatory, (2) arts, (3) stenographic and (5) business.

In each course, certain subjects are required, such as English, history, mathematics and science. There also is a wide variety of what are called "elective" subjects in each of the five courses.

By getting the student started in the right course—the course for which he is best suited and which best suits his objective — school officials believe the student will come to the end of his four high school years with a better education.

It is along this line, Trace said, he wants to talk with the parents of the eighth graders Friday night.

He added that parents are being counted on to discuss with their children the latter's ultimate aims — to determine, as near as possible, whether they want to go to college, go into business, become good homemakers (for the girls), go into industrial trades (for the boys) or become stenographers.

AGAINST THIS background, school officials and faculty, will help work out the most suitable course of study for each of the students — with approval of the parents.

Following these general discussions with the students and the parents, will be the more direct counseling of the students by the teachers, Trace said.

Extra-curricular activities, Trace said, will be fitted into the student's schedule only if certain scholastic standards are met.

A program along this line has been followed for some time by the high school here, it was pointed out, but the counseling did not start un-

Politicians Fouling Diplomacy?

Being an Ambassador Costs Big Sums of Personal Cash

(EDITOR'S Note: It costs money to be a U. S. ambassador, as a result many qualified men never make the grade. This country's ambassadorial system is explored in this second of three articles on the department of state.)

By BEN PRICE
AP Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The ambassador is the key man in the implementation of United States policies overseas.

He is the President's personal representative in the country to which he is assigned and thus the linchpin of all American activities there.

During this year President Eisenhower will appoint about 30 new ambassadors. If the appointments run true to form, the so-called plush posts—London, Paris, Madrid, Rome, Bonn, Mexico City and New Delhi—will be filled by what the department calls "non-career diplomats."

To be more exact these appointments will be political rewards and the jobs will be filled by men with substantial private means.

Traditionally one-third of the nation's ambassadorial posts are occupied by non-career people.

The new ambassadors to Paris and London already have been named.

John Hay Whitney, an American grown aristocrat with a personal fortune estimated at between 60 and 80 million dollars, has gone to London. He is one of Eisenhower's golf and bridge cronies and he also helped raise funds for the 1956 campaign.

Just before the opening of school. Consultation with the parents on so broad a scale is new.

CARRYING the program a step further, Trace said parents of about 70 seventh graders in two home rooms have been asked to meet with him and the teachers in the high school library Thursday evening to discuss junior high school problems. The meeting, he said, will be completely informal and added "there will be no speeches."

A similar meeting with the parents of the rest of the seventh graders is planned later, Trace said.

Then there will be more meetings during the summer and again after the seventh graders enter the eighth grade.

Students now in the sixth grade — and possibly their parents — are to meet with school officials before the opening of school next fall. At these "orientation meetings," the procedures to be followed when they start into junior high school will be fully explained, Trace said.

The term "supersonic" refers to sound waves that are pitched so high we cannot hear them and to speeds higher than the speed of sound.

To Paris, the President appointed Amory Houghton, chairman of the board of the Corning Glass Works. Houghton was a heavy contributor to the Eisenhower campaign.

This is not to say that the sole qualifications for non-career diplomats are wealth and party allegiance. In these days intelligence is sought too.

This U. S. political system of picking ambassadors has turned up some really top flight men, one of whom was Whitney's grandfather, John Hay. By the same token it has produced some real duds.

Those who receive the plush jobs can expect to spend between $30,000 and $100,000 a year out of their own pockets for entertainment.

An ambassador also can be named from the ranks of the professional diplomats. The career man reaches the top after 20 or 30 years of service, during which he has been under annual examination as to his qualifications.

PEPSI-COLA BOTTLING CO. of Columbus, Ohio

Usually the professional is confined by lack of private means to the less expensive posts and thus the smaller nations.

Periodically, someone in Washington tries fruitlessly to change this system.

In this session of Congress, Montana's Sen. Mike Mansfield is saying that the U. S. government can afford nothing less than the best ambassadors available and that it should pay for what it gets.

Mansfield has drafted an amendment to the State Department's ment's appropriation under which the government would increase ambassadorial living expenses to the point where any man, regardless of private finances, can fill the top posts.

How do we keep political appointees from fouling up the diplomatic works?

The answer lies in the structure of the department. The No. 2 man in every embassy is a career diplomat. He is the adviser and the technician.

'ID Cards' To Buy Ohio Liquor Asked

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Sen. Ross Pepple, Lima Republican, wants Ohioans who buy liquor to carry identification cards. He told a Senate committee Tuesday he is "after the man who abuses the right to drink."

Pepple was supported in his stand before the Senate Liquor Committee Tuesday by the Rev. Lewis Berger, superintendent of the Temperance League of Ohio, who argued such a law would "help to solve the problem of drunk driving as well as drunkenness."

"This bill," Pepple said, "is an effort to make a man appreciate the right to drink is not an inherent right but a licensed right. The state licenses the liquor business in Ohio."

The bill would require the holder's picture on the ID card. Liquor could not be purchased without it. The card could be revoked upon the holder's conviction for drunk driving, intoxication twice in a year or five times in five years or if the holder is considered an habitual drunkard.

"Certainly the man who abuses the privilege of drinking ought to lose this right," Pepple said. "The only thing that scares an auto driver who drinks too much is the threat of losing his driver's license. This bill would act in a similar manner for those who abuse the privilege of drinking liquor."

Democrat Office Files Ransacked

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Democratic National Committee's offices were ransacked Tuesday night and "files were pulled open and disturbed."

Samuel C. Brightman, director of public affairs for the committee, said files in the library and Chairman Paul M. Butler's office were opened and papers strewn about.

"It apparently wasn't vandalism," Brightman said. "The assumption would be that they were after something. Just what is a little baffling to me."

WHS Counseling Program Given New Emphasis

Students, Parents In Closer Contact With School Faculty

Convinced that students will get more out of their high school education by taking the courses for which they are best suited and which best prepare them for the path they want to follow after graduation, Washington C. H. High School authorities are now getting started a program of counseling with both students and parents.

John Trace, high school principal, has held two meetings with the approximately 164 eighth grade students who will enter high school next fall.

Parents of the eighth graders have been asked to come to a meeting Friday night in the high school auditorium while the eighth graders are having their party in the gymnasium.

At this meeting, Trace and several teachers will explain to the parents the different courses offered in the high school and what the requirements for graduation are.

FIVE BASIC courses are offered: (1) college preparatory, (2) arts, (4) stenographic and (5) business.

In each course, certain subjects are required, such as English, history, mathematics and science. There also is a wide variety of what are called "elective" subjects in each of the five courses.

By getting the student started in the right course—the course for which he is best suited and which best suits his objective — school officials believe the student will come to the end of his four high school years with a better education.

It is along this line, Trace said, he wants to talk with the parents of the eighth graders Friday night.

He added that parents are being counted on to discuss with their children the latter's ultimate aims—to determine, as near as possible, whether they want to go to college, go into business, become good homemakers (for the girls), go into industrial trades (for the boys) or become stenographers.

AGAINST THIS background, school officials and faculty, will help work out the most suitable course of study for each of the students—with approval of the parents.

Following these general discussions with the students and the parents, will be the more direct counselling of the students by the teachers, Trace said.

Extra-curricular activities, Trace said, will be fitted into the student's schedule only if certain scholastic standards are met.

A program along this line has been followed for some time by the high school here, it was pointed out, but the counseling did not start un-

Politicians Fouling Diplomacy?

Being an Ambassador Costs Big Sums of Personal Cash

(EDITOR'S Note: It costs money to be a U. S. ambassador, as a result many qualified men never make the grade. This country's ambassadorial system is explored in this second of three articles on the department of state.)

By BEM PRICE
AP Staff Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—The ambassador is the key man in the implementation of United States policies overseas.

He is the President's personal representative in the country to which he is assigned and thus the linchpin of all American activities there.

During this year President Eisenhower will appoint about 30 new ambassadors. If the appointments run true to form, the so-called plush posts—London, Paris, Madrid, Rome, Bonn, Mexico City and New Delhi—will be filled by what the department calls "non-career diplomats."

To be more exact these appointments will be political rewards and the jobs will be filled by men with substantial private means. Traditionally one-third of the nation's ambassadorial posts are occupied by non-career people.

The new ambassadors to Paris and London already have been named.

John Hay Whitney, an American grown aristocrat with a personal fortune estimated at between 60 and 80 million dollars, has gone to London. He is one of Eisenhower's golf and bridge cronies and he also helped raise funds for the 1956 campaign.

til just before the opening of school. Consultation with the parents on so broad a scale is new.

CARRYING the program a step further, Trace said parents of about 70 seventh graders in two home rooms have been asked to meet with him and the teachers in the high school library Thursday evening to discuss junior high school problems. The meeting, he said, will be completely informal and added "there will be no speeches."

A similar meeting with the parents of the rest of the seventh graders is planned later, Trace said.

Then there will be more meetings during the summer and again after the seventh graders enter the eighth grade.

Students now in the sixth grade—and possibly their parents—are to meet with school officials before the opening of school next fall. At these "orientation meetings," the procedures to be followed when they start into junior high school will be fully explained, Trace said.

The term "supersonic" refers to sound waves that are pitched so high we cannot hear them and to speeds higher than the speed of sound.

To Paris, the President appointed Amory Houghton, chairman of the board of the Corning Glass Works. Houghton was a heavy contributor to the Eisenhower campaign.

This is not to say that the sole qualifications for non-career diplomats are wealth and party allegiance. In these days intelligence is sought too.

This U. S. political system of picking ambassadors has turned up some really top flight men, one of whom was Whitney's grandfather, John Hay. By the same token it has produced some real duds.

Those who receive the plush jobs can expect to spend between $30,000 and $100,000 a year out of their own pockets for entertainment.

An ambassador also can be named from the ranks of the professional diplomats. The career man reaches the top after 20 or 30 years of service, during which he has been under annual examination as to his qualifications.

PEPSI-COLA BOTTLING CO. of Columbus, Ohio

Usually the professional is confined by lack of private means to the less expensive posts and thus the smaller nations.

Periodically, someone in Washington tries fruitlessly to change this system.

In this session of Congress, Montana's Sen. Mike Mansfield is saying that the U. S. government can afford nothing less than the best ambassadors available and that it should pay for what it gets.

Mansfield has drafted an amendment to the State Department's appropriation under which the government would increase ambassadorial living expenses to the point where any man, regardless of private finances, can fill the top posts.

How do we keep political appointees from fouling up the diplomatic works?

The answer lies in the structure of the department. The No. 2 man in every embassy is a career diplomat. He is the adviser and the technician.

Furthering Our City's Optimistic Outlook

Another forward-looking development which lends optimistic promise to the future of the Washington C. H. area in Fayette County, is an announced new project of Armco Drainage and Metal Products Inc.

Present information released indicates that the Armco people will spend a minimum of $157,000 here in further enlargement and improvements which probably will mean some increase in the number of its employees at a not too distant date.

The Armco branch plant here, started in 1950 already has been enlarged to approximately eight times its original size with corresponding increases in the number of individuals it employs.

This news coming on top of the recent National Cash Register Company announcement of its proposed new addition, also the coming of a Du Pont plant near the city probably within a year, and the recent moving here of several small but active other types of plants, brightens the prospect for Washington C. H. growth and increased prosperity.

Armco is another one of the high class nationally known corporations which does business in a big way while maintaining excellent management-labor relations. It is the kind that has and holds public confidence. Its various plants and their employees enter in to the spirit of good community life and civic progress.

The company's expanding production of its Steelox buildings in the plant here and the purchasing of more land in this area, indicates that this big organization also has strong belief in the future of Washington C. H., a fact which our entire citizenship should appreciate. Armco's plants are the kind that require personnel organizations built from people who are a credit to any community.

A Kiss Like Running Around Block

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Did you know that this happens to you when you kiss a pretty girl?

The pituitary gland begins secreting like crazy, the adrenal glands are stimulated, the blood pressure rises, some white blood cells break down, the pulse quickens, you breathe faster, the circulation increases and your heart action speeds up. If there is no pretty girl handy, you can get the same results by running around the block.

Did you know: That Minnesota has more water within its borders than any other state in the Union. That one out of every three million persons has handwriting so close to your own that only an expert could tell the difference.

That your car contains about 100 pounds of rubber, not including the tires.

That the 100-million-year-old Meramec Caverns at Stanton,

Mo., has installed a chapel to accommodate tourists who want to be wed underground.

That you have roughly a pint of blood for every 12 pounds of body weight, that is, if your weight is normal.

That phrase "passing the buck," meaning to shift responsibility, originated in cardrooms from the custom of placing a counter or marker, called a "buck," before a player to remind him it's his turn to deal.

That if you like living in towns with odd names you might consider moving to Bumble Bee (Ariz.) or Hygiene (Colo.) or Heck (N. M.) or Bourbon (Ind.) or Frostproof (Fla.) or Social Circle (Ga.) or Cannon Ball (N. D.).

That chocolate, vanilla and strawberry are still the three most popular kinds of ice cream, but among the 200 flavors available are asparagus, tomato sherbet and (ugh!) spinach.

That the 75,000 miniature railroad fans in America spend $15 million a year on their hobby. The average fan is 33 years old, earns $6,222 a year, has his own home, a wife and three kids, and spends 6.8 hours a week (and $2.88) maintaining his toy.

That the American tourist industry is the greatest on earth, yet a recent survey showed 75 percent of U. S. adults never have made a journey by air, 50 per cent haven't made a trip of more than 100 miles by bus and 30 per cent have never traveled by train.

That this country may not be going to the bow-wows, but it now has one dog for every seven persons. And Rover's food bill now comes to about $333,333.33 a year, not counting the scraps he gets from the table.

That the White House appears on only one U. S. bill—the double sawbuck.

U. S. Policy Errors Costly

By George Sokolsky

No statesman in these days permits himself to be caught in an obvious double-cross, particularly if the facts of the situation will stand out clearly and devastatingly in a short time, while the statesman is likely still to be in office.

That is the essential problem which faces Ben-Gurion of Israel and Guy Mollet of France. Did they correctly understand what John Foster Dulles meant by "assumptions" concerning Gaza and Aquaba or did Dulles mean something else than he said or did he say less than he meant?

At any rate, the British, French and Israeli are now convinced that there was some kind of a double-cross concerning Gaza. The discussion is whether it was Henry Cabot Lodge, Dag Hammarskjöld or John Foster Dulles himself who put in the double-cross.

Concerning Hammarskjöld, Israel takes the position that he is a modern Haman, a potential Torquemada, a sacrificer of Israel to wiles of Nasser. This view is unfair because Hammarskjöld is in a tough position as secretary general of the United Nations, and he would have done better by himself and his reputation if he had kept out of this sea of troubled waters because actually he represents no power and no authority and can only go as far as either the United States or Soviet Russia is willing to permit him.

His awkwardness arises from the fact that the balance of power is held by Afro-Asian countries which, if they combine with the Soviet countries, can so manipulate the affairs of the General Assembly as to lead to it.

What Dag Hammarskjöld and Ralph Bunche have been trying to assert in the Israeli-Egyptian situation is the authority of the United Nations, seeking to set precedents which would have the weight perhaps of the Supreme Court decisions of John Marshall in the early days of the history of the United States. Thus far, they have not succeeded, although they have had the enthusiastic and even exaggerated support of President Eisenhower.

In Great Britain and France, the sentiment has developed that John Foster Dulles has double-crossed Israel. The British and French have developed an unusual dislike for Dulles. It might be said that no secretary of state in recent years has been as unpopular with our principal allies as Dulles has become.

It has been during the Eisenhower administration that Great Britain and France have suffered most drastically from American opposition to European colonialism in Africa and Asia.

Whereas during the Truman administration, it came to be recognized that Soviet Russia is the principal enemy of the United States and that the strength of this country lay in its alliance with Great Britain and France, during the Eisenhower administration the concept was developed that the security of the United States lay in the goodwill of the underdeveloped, uncommitted, bargaining countries of Africa and Asia.

The climax came with the seizure of the Suez Canal by Nasser and the costly events that followed. Both the British and the French are now convinced that when Nasser seized the canal, they should have gone in and polished him off fast. That they did not do this was due to the attitude of John Foster Dulles who was constantly seeking alternatives to war.

But they have asked themselves whether Dulles was speaking as an independent statesman or as an advocate of the pacifism of President Eisenhower?

This conflict of personalities and ideas only concerns Israel as it affects this small nation's struggle for survival. Israel pursued a course dictated by the United States. That course has strengthened Nasser.

It has strengthened the pro-Soviet elements in Arab States. It could destroy not only Israel but also Jordan and the 200 million dollars for the Middle East could be used to bring Saudi Arabia and Syria not only into Israel but into Jordan as well.

It is the purpose of Israel not to die. And if that means that the Israeli will fight into the streets of Cairo, that will happen, too. To meet precisely that possibility, Soviet Russia has sent Shepilov to Cairo and with him undoubtedly goes a staff of experts, including military experts. While it is ridiculous to regard the errors of American policy during the past six months as irreparable, they have been unnecessarily costly.

Unconscious Fears Keep Many Single

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Some persons have an unconscious fear of marriage.

While to all outward appearances they seem to have valid reasons for not marrying, a number of single persons actually have an unrecognized marriage phobia.

Psychiatrist's View

This, at least, is the view of a leading psychiatrist, Dr. Jacob H. Friedman, director of the Neuro-psychiatric Service of Fordham Hospital and chief of the Mental Hygiene Clinic at Lebanon Hospital.

Physical health, it seems, has little to do with it in most cases. Rather, unconscious motivations are frequently to blame.

Nine Reasons

Writing in a recent issue of the Journal of the Hillside Hospital, Glen Oaks, New York, Dr. Friedman reports that the nine most common female rationalizations for not marrying are:

Fear of pregnancy, fear of inheritance of mental illness, parental attachment, fear of infidelity of the future husband, guilt in relation to a childhood sexual activity.

Desire for a wealthy husband, fear of marital relations, fear that a husband will possess undesirable traits of father or brother, a feeling that being jilted by one man means that all men are no good.

Most common rationalizations for men not marrying include: Marriage entails too much responsibility, marriage means loss of liberty, the feeling that being deceived by one woman means all women are no good, an aggressive feeling toward the mother with the resulting belief that "fall women are like mothers."

Too Much of a Gamble
Marriage is too much a gamble as shown by the divorce rate, women are untrustworthy, married women are too demanding and want too much, fear of inheritance of mental illness.

Men also often set too high a standard in seeking a wife.

Sometimes these may be the real reasons why persons remain single. Sometimes there are other reasons. For a large number of unmarried persons, however, a psychiatrist may be of some help.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

R. F.: Is mucus in the bowels dangerous and what is the cure?

Answer: The presence of a small amount of mucus in the bowel movement, as a rule, is normal. Excessive mucus may indicate that there is inflammation or malfunction of the bowel. Better consult a doctor if excessive mucus is present.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Within less than a week after the Bermuda conference — between President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Macmillan — Americans and British are disagreeing on what they agreed to.

If this keeps up, the Bermuda meeting will look like a farce which may have done more damage than it was intended to repair.

To the Republicans two of the dirtiest words in the language are "secret agreements." They made as much political hay as they could out of denouncing President Roosevelt's Yalta agreements with Stalin. The last thing they want wrapped around their necks is a charge that Eisenhower and Macmillan reached secret agreements.

When Eisenhower flew home Sunday, Macmillan and his party remained in Bermuda.

On Monday and again Tuesday American correspondents who also remained at Bermuda have written stories—based on information given by the British — that Eisenhower and Macmillan reached accord on documents described variously as directives, agreements and protocols, more than 25 of them in writing.

Four times now in those two days the Eisenhower administration has denied there were any secret agreements.

The primary purpose of the Bermuda meeting was to mend the split — due to a loss of confidence — between the United States and Britain. The split occurred last fall when Britain, joining France and Israel, attacked Egypt.

The British did so without consulting this country, in whose hands it had lost confidence. The British were for direct action. The Eisenhower administration wanted to go easy.

Before Eisenhower and Macmillan parted Sunday they issued a public statement on what they discussed and agreed to. It was

Soviets Reject Ike-Mac Proposal

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union, as expected has cold-shouldered the Eisenhower-Macmillan proposal for mutual observation of nuclear tests.

The two Western leaders at their Bermuda conference agreed they would invite foreign observers to their tests if the Soviet Union would do the same.

Russia, instead, called for immediate suspension of atomic and hydrogen bomb tests, either on a temporary or a permanent basis.

Further, the Soviet government urged that the whole question of continuing such tests be divorced from the wider disarmament negotiations now going on between the big powers in London.

full of trite opinions and showed the two men hadn't agreed on much of specific import.

After Eisenhower left, Macmillan held a press conference where he said he and Eisenhower had agreed on the policies the United States and Britain must take to obtain interim and long-term settlements in the Middle East.

The public statement had said no such thing. Tuesday at his news conference Secretary of State Dulles said there had been no agreements on the Middle East. Dulles also said there had been no written understandings not made public, except one.

He said there was a "procedural" understanding for "reviewing the intelligence arrangements which we have concerning alerts."

On Monday at his White House conference with congressional leaders — to tell them what had happened at Bermuda — Eisenhower reportedly said there had been no secret agreements.

His White House press secretary, James Hagerty, repeated that statement later Monday.

Tuesday again Hagerty said Eisenhower and Macmillan had made no secret agreements.

This view is unfair because Hammarskjöld is in a tough position as secretary general of the United Nations, and he would have done better by himself and his reputation if he had kept out of this sea of troubled waters because actually he represents no power and no authority and can only go as far as either the United States or Soviet Russia is willing to permit him.

His awkwardness arises from the fact that the balance of power is held by Afro-Asian countries which, if they combine with the Soviet countries, can so manipulate the affairs of the General Assembly as to deaden it.

What Dag Hammarskjöld and Ralph Bunche have been trying to assert in the Israeli-Egyptian situation is the authority of the United Nations, seeking to set precedents which would have the weight perhaps of the Supreme Court decisions of John Marshall in the early days of the history of the United States. Thus far, they have not succeeded, although they have had the enthusiastic and even exaggerated support of President Eisenhower.

In Great Britain and France, the sentiment has developed that John Foster Dulles has double-crossed Israel. The British and French have developed an unusual dislike for Dulles. It might be said that no secretary of state in recent years has been as unpopular with our principal allies as Dulles has become.

It has been during the Eisenhower administration that Great Britain and France have suffered most drastically from American opposition to European colonialism in Africa and Asia.

Whereas during the Truman administration, it came to be recognized that Soviet Russia is the principal enemy of the United States and that the strength of this country lay in its alliance with Great Britain and France, during the Eisenhower administration the concept was developed that the security of the United States lay in the goodwill of the underdeveloped, uncommitted, bargaining countries of Africa and Asia.

The climax came with the seizure of the Suez Canal by Nasser and the costly events that followed. Both the British and the French are now convinced that when Nasser seized the canal, they should have gone in and polished him off fast. That they did not do this was due to the attitude of John Foster Dulles who was constantly seeking alternatives to war.

But they have asked themselves whether Dulles was speaking as an independent statesman or as an advocate of the pacifism of President Eisenhower?

This conflict of personalities and ideas only concerns Israel as it affects this small nation's struggle for survival. Israel pursued a course dictated by the United States. That course has strengthened Nasser.

It has strengthened the pro-Soviet elements in Arab States. It could destroy not only Israel but also Jordan and the 200 million dollars for the Middle East could be used to bring Saudi Arabia and Syria not only into Israel but into Jordan as well.

It is the purpose of Israel not to die. And if that means that the Israeli will fight into the streets of Cairo, that will happen, too. To meet precisely that possibility, Soviet Russia has sent Shepilov to Cairo and with him undoubtedly goes a staff of experts, including military experts. While it is ridiculous to regard the errors of American policy during the past six months as irreparable, they have been unnecessarily costly.

Diet and Health

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Some persons have an unconscious fear of marriage.

While to all outward appearances they seem to have valid reasons for not marrying, a number of single persons actually have an unrecognized marriage phobia.

Psychiatrist's View

This, at least, is the view of a leading psychiatrist, Dr. Jacob H. Friedman, director of the Neuro-Psychiatric Service of Fordham Hospital and chief of the Mental Hygiene Clinic at Lebanon Hospital.

Physical health, it seems, has little to do with it in most cases. Rather, unconscious motivating factors are frequently to blame.

Nine Reasons

Writing in a recent issue of the Journal of the Hillside Hospital, Glen Oaks, New York, Dr. Friedman reports that the nine most common female rationalizations for not marrying are:

Fear of pregnancy, fear of inheritance of mental illness, parental attachment, fear of infidelity of the future husband, guilt in relation to a childhood sexual activity.

Desire for a wealthy husband, fear of marital relations, fear that a husband will possess undesirable traits of father or brother, a feeling that being jilted by one man means that all men are no good.

Most common rationalizations for men not marrying include: Marriage entails too much responsibility, marriage means loss of liberty, the feeling that being deceived by one woman means all women are no good, an aggressive feeling toward the mother with the resulting belief that "fall women are like mothers."

Too Much of a Gamble

Marriage is too much of a gamble as shown by the divorce rate, women are untrustworthy, married women are too demanding and want too much, fear of inheritance of mental illness.

Men also often set too high a standard in seeking a wife.

Sometimes these may be the real reasons why persons remain single. Sometimes there are other reasons. For a large number of unmarried persons, however, a psychiatrist may be of some help.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

R. F.: Is mucus in the bowels dangerous and what is the cure?

Answer: The presence of a small amount of mucus in the bowel movement, as a rule, is normal. Excessive mucus may indicate that there is inflammation or malfunction of the bowel. Better consult a doctor if excessive mucus is present.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Within less than a week after the Bermuda conference — between President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Macmillan — Americans and British are disagreeing on what they agreed to.

If this keeps up, the Bermuda meeting will look like a farce which may have done more damage than it was intended to repair.

To the Republicans two of the dirtiest words in the language are "secret agreements." They made as much political hay as they could out of denouncing President Roosevelt's Yalta agreements with Stalin. The last thing they want wrapped around their necks is a charge that Eisenhower and Macmillan reached secret agreements.

When Eisenhower flew home Sunday, Macmillan and his party remained in Bermuda.

On Monday and again Tuesday American correspondents who also remained at Bermuda have written stories based on information given them by the British — that Eisenhower and Macmillan reached accord on documents described variously as directives, agreements and protocols, more than 25 of them in writing.

Four times now in those two days the Eisenhower administration has denied there were any secret agreements.

The primary purpose of the Bermuda meeting was to mend the split — due to a loss of confidence — between the United States and Britain. The split occurred last fall when Britain, joining France and Israel, attacked Egypt.

The British did so without consulting this country, in whose handling of Egyptian President Nasser it had lost confidence. The British were for direct action. The Eisenhower administration wanted to go easy.

Before Eisenhower and Macmillan parted Sunday they issued a public statement on what they discussed and agreed to. It was full of trite opinions and showed the two men hadn't agreed on much of specific import.

After Eisenhower left, Macmillan held a press conference where he said he and Eisenhower had agreed on the policies the United States and Britain must take to obtain interim and long-term settlements in the Middle East.

The public statement had said no such thing. Tuesday at his news conference Secretary of State Dulles said there had been no agreements on the Middle East. Dulles also said there had been no written understandings not made public, except one.

He said there was a "procedural" understanding for "reviewing the intelligence arrangements which we have concerning alerts."

On Monday at his White House conference with congressional leaders — to tell them what had happened at Bermuda — Eisenhower reportedly said there had been no secret agreements.

His White House press secretary, James Hagerty, repeated that statement later Monday.

Tuesday again Hagerty said Eisenhower and Macmillan had made no secret agreements.

That first power tile mill owned and operated by Judge Daniel McLean, mentioned in a feature article in Saturday's Record-Herald, was situated on or near the site of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lipschutz, 215 Highland Ave.

This information comes from Mrs. Max G. Dice, whose mother was the daughter of the third wife of Judge McLean. Mrs. Dice was in Florida and could not be reached when the Saturday article was written.

Mrs. Dice recalls hearing her mother tell about the first mill and that when it proved so successful, Judge McLean built other mills to produce tile. He is credited with building the first power tile mill in the United States.

At the time the tile mill was built, Judge McLean and family lived in a log house, which was later weatherboarded. It was immediately west of the present Lipschutz home, and clay for the tile mill was obtained from the area in or near the Washington Country Club grounds.

The former McLean home was torn down in 1917 after it became infested with termites, but the old foundation walls are still standing.

Incidentally, the late Daniel T. McLean was a son of Joseph McLean, son of Judge Daniel McLean, and not a son of Judge McLean, as stated in the Saturday article.

It is interesting to know that the home of Judge and Mrs. Dice was patterned after the former home of Judge McLean's second wife, at Great Barrington, Mass., and the old home was later destroyed by fire.

OLD TYPEWRITERS

It is always interesting to scan the yellowed pages of old newspapers and magazines, and I invariably find the advertisements more interesting than the straight reading matter.

For instance in a copy of Harper's Magazine for February, 1896, there is, of course, not a single advertisement of automobiles — for obvious reasons.

But this particular issue contains a picture and advertisement of a Caligraph typewriter and a Williams typewriter, as well as several other makes.

I was particularly interested in the Caligraph typewriter because I have one of those which was given to me many years ago by Joseph H. Harper, former editor and manager of The Daily Herald and well known attorney. He had used it while he was engaged in the practice of law here, and it was one of the first typewriters in Washington C. H. It goes to the Fayette County Historical Society for a place in the forthcoming Museum.

The Williams typewriter reminds me that the first one I saw in operation was in the former Fayette County Record office, and was being operated by the late Glenn B. (Sue) Rodgers, who was on the news end of the paper at that time.

The Williams had half of the typebars on one side of the platen, and the remainder on the other side, so that some of the spider-like bars would leap up and strike the platen away from the operator, and the others toward the operator. To have these typebars striking toward one was rather disconcerting.

Also advertised in the same issue of the magazine were the "Densmore, styled 'the world's greatest typewriter,'" and the "New Hammond," "the standard of excellence," as well as the Smith-Premier with "many improvements overlooked by the other manufacturers." The Munson, Ford, Remington and Yost typewriters also were advertised.

Of the numerous typewriters in use at the time, few survived over a period of years, and some were taken over by the more energetic companies. It seems to have been another case of the "survival of the fittest."

MARTINS RETURN

First purple martins to return from the south were reported from Millledgeville.

They arrived at 3:45 p. m. Monday at the homes of Harry and Charles Hiser, who reside side by side in that village.

Last year the Hisers each built 30-apartment martin boxes and erected them. They were soon occupied by 18 or 20 pairs.

This year they expect the entire apartment space to be occupied, probably by some of the martins which lived in them last year.

So far the martins have not returned to the Ralph Taylor "apartments" on Yeoman St., where for many years they invariably have shown up on March 28.

30 YEARS AGO

A drive for funds for YMCA netted a total of $7,640 and insured operation of the institution for another year.

Fear was expressed that cold weather on top of late maturing corn might make seed grain scarce in Ohio.

Several American citizens were murdered by Chinese and the United States and Great Britain rushed warships and troops into the zone to protect their nationalists.

Two motor coaches were being operated on the DT&I Railroad. Attorney H. H. (Toke) Sanderson died at 77 years after 44 years practice of law here.

The Baker Wood Preserving Co. had 450,000 railroad ties piled in yards awaiting preservative bath of creosote.

The company handled 4,500 car loads of timber last year and operated around the clock.

Clyde L. Craig, folding chair manufacturer, died at age of 60 years.

Jaycees Receive Award For Civic Achievement

The Washington C. H. Junior Chamber of Commerce, now only in its third year, has received from the national Junior Chamber of Commerce the "Civic Achievement award."

The citation said the award was: "In recognition of having met all requirements of 'Operation Civil Service', the No. 1 national program of the year 1956-1957."

It was displayed for the first time to the Jaycees at this week's regular meeting.

At the business session, Dr. Lawrence Burris, the president, named Marilyn Reno chairman of the committee to work out details for the annual Clean-up and Paint Week here, but no date was set.

After agreeing to sponsor the Fourth of July celebration here again next summer, Dick Arnett was named chairman of the planning committee. In general, the celebration will follow the pattern of Fourth of July celebrations sponsored by Jaycees for last few years. It will include virtually a full day of activities for the youngsters and a fireworks display for everyone at night. Extent of fireworks display, it was brought out during the discussion, is dependant on the amount of money available.

DURING THE business meeting, the Jaycees also approved another fund-raising project. J. O. Garringer was authorized to go ahead with plan to sell little yellow flags to be placed on rural mail boxes. Called a "postal signal system," the flags are raised when mail is placed in the box so people can tell whether the carrier has passed their house and, if so, whether he left any mail in the box.

A nominating committee of Omar Schwartz, LaVerne Haugen, Bill DeAndre, Frank Yeade, Ray Anderson and Dr. Burris was instructed to present a slate of nominees for Jaycee offices at the May 20 election meeting.

Sponsorship of the Teen-age Road-E-O again this year was approved by the Jaycees. Pete Yahn was named chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements. Other members of the committee are John Lyons, John Sagar, Bob Willis and Weldon Kaufman.

The written test is to be given at the high school here April 27 and the test of driving skill will be held May 5 on N. Main St., probably between Paint and Temple Sts. where it was held last year.

Cooperating in the Road-E-O will be the city police, county sheriff's department, state Highway Patrol and the Highway Patrol Auxiliary made up of American Legionnaires.

Students who want to enter the competition may get in touch with Arthur Engle, Washington C. H. High School driver training instructor and teen-agers not now in school may contact either Dr. Burris or Yahn. The Road-E-O is open to both boys and girls.

AT THE CONCLUSION of the business meeting, the Jaycees held another round table discussion of U. S. foreign policies. The question for this month's discussion was: "Should U. S. Recognize Red (Communist) China?" Ralph Cook was the discussion leader.

Three conclusions were checked on the "opinion ballot" which was sent to national Jaycee headquarters. They were:

(1) Continue to keep (Peiping seat of China's communist government) from representing China on the U. N. Security Council by every possible means, including the veto.

(2) Use diplomatic pressure on

Seiberling, Union OK New Contract

AKRON (AP) — Seiberling Rubber Co. and the United Rubber Workers have agreed on a new master contract covering 1,700 workers in plants at Barberton and Carey until May 1, 1959.

The announcement followed the end Monday of an unauthorized walkout of 33 employees in a mill room in a dispute over work assignments. The walkout started last Thursday.

The new contract does not involve wages, which will be negotiated later this year.

It will include virtually a full day of activities for the youngsters and a fireworks display for everyone at night. Extent of fireworks display, it was brought out during the discussion, is dependant on the amount of money available.

DURING THE business meeting, the Jaycees also approved another fund-raising project. J. O. Garringer was authorized to go ahead with plan to sell little yellow flags to be placed on rural mail boxes. Called a "postal signal system," the flags are raised when mail is placed in the box so people can tell whether the carrier has passed their house and, if so, whether he left any mail in the box.

A nominating committee of Omar Schwartz, LaVerne Haugen, Bill DeAndre, Frank Weade, Ray Anderson and Dr. Burris was instructed to present a slate of nominees for Jaycee offices at the May 20 election meeting.

Sponsorship of the Teen-age Road-E-O again this year was approved by the Jaycees. Pete Yahn was named chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements. Other members of the committee are John Lyons, John Sagar, Bob Willis and Weldon Kaufman.

The written test is to be given at the high school here April 27 and the test of driving skill will be held May 5 on N. Main St., probably between Paint and Temple Sts. where it was held last year.

Cooperating in the Road-E-O will be the city police, county sheriff's department, state Highway Patrol and the Highway Patrol Auxiliary made up of American Legionnaires.

Students who want to enter the competition may get in touch with Arthur Engle, Washington C. H. High School driver training instructor and teen-agers not now in school may contact either Dr. Burris or Yahn. The Road-E-O is open to both boys and girls.

AT THE CONCLUSION of the business meeting, the Jaycees held another round table discussion of U. S. foreign policies. The question for this month's discussion was: "Should U. S. Recognize Red (Communist) China?" Ralph Cook was the discussion leader.

Three conclusions were checked on the "opinion ballot" which was sent to national Jaycee headquarters. They were:

(1) Continue to keep (Peiping seat of China's communist government) from representing China on the U. N. Security Council by every possible means, including the veto.

(2) Use diplomatic pressure on other U. N. members to keep Peiping delegates out of the U. N. but, if we lose, bow to the will of the majority;

(3) Go slow on recognizing the Red Chinese government but agree to further talks and, if progress is made, be willing to grant recognition at some future date.

"Mary Hawthorth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I would very much like to have your views on the following subject: Do you think a couple should marry when the man is still in college?

My parents are paying my way through college, and although they approve of the girl, they refuse to continue paying my tuition, or to give us any financial help, if we marry before I graduate.

My fiancée has a fairly good job and I could get a parttime job while going to school—and we both realize that it wouldn't be easy.

Grace and I have been going together for approximately three years and have been engaged for two years. I know that she would like to get married now; and she is willing to assume most of the responsibility for our support for the next 18 months—until I am through school.

Our biggest worry is that if we should have a baby, I might have to drop out of college before graduating. In fairness to Grace, what should I ask her to do? To take responsibility for our support for 18 months? Or wait until I graduate and get established in a job, so that I may handle that responsibility?

DEAR E. B.: There are no tested-and-proved right answers to this line of questioning—which has been heard on every hand, since the dawn of the GI era of federally financed college education for released servicemen.

As to whether it is feasible, or imprudent, for a couple to marry when the man is still in college, I should say that success or failure (or immediate grief) will depend upon: (1) The quality of the betrothed persons, (2) the attitude of their families and (3) the social circumstances of their particular case.

I think the more mature, or secure, or customarily happy pair, confident of an interesting life in any case (on the basis of past history, without knowing just how the future details will spell out), probably would decide to prolong the engagement, until the man was on his feet in a job.

Persons who are disturbed by logical delays, who can't tolerate a reasonable load of frustration, who aren't happy in the now, who are pressing for marriage per se as supposed passport to a better land, aren't very good partnership risks, when the seas are uncharted, and the weather uncertain.

Your parents' determination to withdraw all help, if you marry while in school, seems quite selfish, brutal and vengeful. Evidently they use money as a whip to keep you under their thumb as long as possible. In common decency they should be willing to pay your tuition after marriage, if they would do the same before.

However, in general (leaving aside their selfishness), my sympathies are with both generations in a quandary of this kind. Such makeshift financing as you outline would be a hardship on all concerned—in terms of hidden worry and wear-and-tear on emotional health. And your parents will suffer the special torments of the selfish, hateful and guilty soul, if they see you in want, for lack of generosity on their part.

In fairness to your fiancée, why don't you and she talk things over with a seasoned counsellor, say a psychologist or clergyman, to get an informed impartial vote, on whether to marry now or wait.

Mary Hawthorth counsels through her column, not by mail or personal interview. Write to her in care of this newspaper.

Persons who are disturbed by logical delays, who can't tolerate a reasonable load of frustration, who aren't happy in the - now, who are pressing for marriage per se as supposed passport to a better land, aren't very good partnership risks, when the seas are uncharted, and the weather uncertain.

Your parents' determination to withdraw all help, if you marry while in school, seems quite selfish, brutal and vengeful. Evidently they use money as a whip to keep you under their thumb as long as possible. In common decency they should be willing to pay your tuition after marriage, if they would be the same before.

However, in general (leaving aside their selfishness), my sympathies are with both generations in a quandary of this kind. Such makeshift financing as you outline would be a hardship on all concerned — in terms of hidden worry and wear-and-tear on emotional health. And your parents will suffer the special torments of the selfish, hateful and guilty soul, if they see you in want, for lack of generosity on their part.

In fairness to your fiancée, why don't you and she talk things over with a seasoned counselor, say a psychologist or clergyman, to get an informed impartial vote, on whether to marry now or wait.

Hospital Expansion Needs Outlined At Rotary Meeting

It was "Hospital Day" at the Rotary Club luncheon meeting at the Country Club Tuesday.

Visitors present were George Pensyl, chairman of Fayette County Memorial Hospital's board of trustees, Miss Christine Evans, hospital administrator, and Dr. Byers W. Shaw, surgeon, each of whom spoke on the present growth, needs and problems of the institution.

IN ADDITION several Rotarians who hold important places in the functioning of the hospital were in attendance, including Marilyn Riley, toward hospitals—from an institution of "last resort" where people are taken to die, to a place to be saved to live and a place many times to prevent tragic results from illness and accidents.

He cited the overtaxed facilities of the hospital here, the shortage of private rooms (patients many times being compelled to accept beds in the hallways) and surgery, laboratory and out-patient departments strained to the limit.

"IF THIS is the condition today, what may we expect within the next few years?" he asked.

Pensyl then mentioned that if a building program is started at once it may take perhaps two years, after voters approve a bond issue, for the hospital to take full advantage of a proposed increased room and other improved facilities.

"We know our needs today and are trying to anticipate and meet these problems within the reasonable future," he said.

He also mentioned the many steps to be taken in plans before the proposition can be presented to the voters, while population continues to increase.

The speaker also called attention to the fact that the improvements sought would attract more specialists in the medical field to care for patients now being sent to large city hospitals.

HE ROUGHLY outlined the estimated cost of the proposed new four-story wing and other improvements and needed new facilities at $645,000, a figure subject to revision. That amount could be covered, according to estimates on the county's tax duplicate at approximately an average seven-tenths of one mill tax per year over a 20 to 23-year period.

"With this expansion program and its accompanying improved facilities, we would be better able to serve present and future citizens of this community with a hospital service of the highest standards," Pensyl said.

NEXT TO BE presented was Miss Evans who covered in detail many of the reasons for need for expansion. She also showed prepared charts and graphs which pointed out the yearly growth of hospital service here in all departments, the amount of service required, the number of personnel needed to give this service. She also outlined where the patients came from in the 18-mile area surrounding Washington C. H. and from beyond that circle.

Insurance, she explained, is a big factor in increased number of patients and in cutting down outstanding bills receivable.

She also outlined the various sources of income to the hospital and gave details of the operating and non-operating costs along with average day's hospital admission of patients and the activities required in various departments to properly care for each one entered.

DR. SHAW gave a strong plea in behalf of providing for the needs of the present hospital for the benefit of untold thousands of people in the near future. He pointed out several reasons why the community as a whole would be helped in many ways.

When the speakers concluded Rotary President Robert Lisk said, "You can rest assured that Rotarians are much interested and will be strong supporters of your project."

The only visitor at the meeting was Richard Kirkpatrick with his father, Ansel Kirkpatrick. Student guests introduced by John Elcessor were Dale Campbell and Norman Chaney.

Legislature Plans Study Of Famous 'Malabar Farm'

By ART PARKS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Legislature has decided to give full-dress study to possible state purchase of famed Malabar Farm in Richland County.

The home of the late author and conservationist Louis Bromfield is up for sale. Under a House-approved resolution adopted Tuesday by the Senate, a legislative committee must recommend five weeks from today whether the state should buy the farm. The price is $145,000.

If it buys the once-rundown farm restored by modern conservation techniques, the state might continue its use as an experimental farm. It might also use it as a site for a proposed eastern Ohio State university.

The Senate decision to support the Malabar purchase study came during a marathon three-hour floor session. Debate also waxed hot and heavy over bills to cut the license fees for transit buses and to authorize construction and provide for the administration of a big Guernsey County lake.

Meanwhile, the House was passing and sending to the Senate a bill to create a fifth post of deputy highway director. The new deputy would be in charge of right-of-way purchases. The bill is backed by the administration of Gov. C. William O'Neill.

The House also sent to the Senate bills providing a general revision of Ohio drainage laws and permitting in-service training for Ohio Highway Department technicians.

The House Industry and Labor Committee appeared ready to send to a subcommittee a bill which would authorize Supplemental Unemployment Compensation (SUB) payments in Ohio. The action probably will be taken tonight. The committee heard eight witnesses oppose the bill Tuesday.

The Senate Code Revision Committee recommended passage of a bill to transfer the State Bureau of Criminal Investigation and identification to the attorney general's office.

The Senate Highways Committee recommended passage of a bill authorizing the state highway director or local authorities to set a minimum speed of 30 m.p.h. on limited-access superhighways if their studies show slow drivers "impede the normal and reasonable flow of traffic."

Sen. William H. Deddens, Cincinnati Republican, was a central figure in both of Tuesday's big debates in the Senate. He won one and lost one.

He was successful in pushing through, 26-6, a House-approved bill to cut license fees on public transit buses owned by private firms from a top of $360 to a flat $10. The latter fee is paid by owners of private passenger autos.

Senate Minority Leader Joseph W. Bartunek (D-Cuyahoga), tried, but failed, to amend the bill to set the bus license fees at $150 a year.

Deddens declared the easing of the tax burden on transit companies would at least delay the necessity for public ownership and operation of mass transit systems. Private transit firms now are in dire financial shape, he told the Senate.

Deddens lost a one-man fight to defeat a bill to authorize construction of a dam and 2,900-acre lake near Cambridge — an estimated three million dollar project proposed by Sen. David McK. Ferguson (R-Cambridge).

Ferguson told the Senate the proposed lake would furnish 35 to 40 million gallons of water a day and that there is "a great industry" waiting for the water. He did not identify the industry which is considering a move to Cambridge.

At the showdown, Deddens carried only three other senators with him as the Senate passed the bill, 26-4, and sent it to the House.

Yanks Expected To Go Abroad In Large Flocks

War Scars on Wane. Vacationists Eye Trips to Europe

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK — More Americans than ever are expected to seek fun and culture overseas this year—and to spend more money in the pursuit. All of the big three tourist outlets—Europe, Far East and Latin America—are in on the boom.

In the first two months of the year this wasn't so for Europe. Bookings were trailing last year by as much as 20 per cent, travel agencies, airlines and steamship companies report. Touring ardor was cooled by fears of war and of gasoline and other shortages. As a byproduct travel to Latin America and the Far East took a sudden spurt.

Then sentiment about Europe changed sharply. The war scare died down. Gasoline rationing all but disappeared. Where it survives, tourists get special rations. Rush for reservations in the last month leads transportation firms to predict overseas travel will be up around 10 per cent. Both airlines and surface lines are adding equipment to handle the peak summer rush.

"The dollar shortage in Europe is so pressing this year," American Express president Ralph T. Reed says, "that special efforts are being made to keep the American tourist comfortable and happy."

"The American traveler is assured of ample supplies of gasoline across Western Europe, including Great Britain and France where rationing for local nationals is in force. Car rentals continue as usual. Hotel accommodations are generally better than in 1956. Prices in most European countries may be slightly higher than last year."

The Pacific Travel Area Assn., covering 18 countries, says advance bookings indicate a continuing rise in travel to the Orient. Americans spent about 45 million dollars on this last year, up about 35 per cent over 1955.

George Killian, president of the American President Lines which has a program for 24 new vessels over the next 20 years, says reservation are up 25 per cent over last year.

Randolph Sevier, Matson Navigation Co. president, says new ships on Pacific routes will give the Pacific a chance to rival the Atlantic.

Travel to South America should be up 25 per cent this year, American Express predicts. Both surface and air lines are booking more tours.

Biochemistry May Hold Key To Any New Cure of Cancer

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

Radiation can cure cancer—of some types.

Surgery can cure cancer — of some types.

So far nobody has found what will cure all cancers, but when such a cure is developed, it probably will be by way of biochemistry, says Dr. Edith Quimby, one of the world's leading biophysicists, who has worked for 37 years on the question of how much radiation the human body can tolerate.

White-haired, pink-cheeked and smiling, Dr. Quimby is daintily feminine and happily married to a fellow scientist, Prof. Shirley L. Quimby of Columbia University.

In her lifetime she has helped develop the science of radiation to a point where 24 million volts now may be fired in the war on cancer. When she started as assistant to Dr. Giocchino Failla, Columbia University's director of radiation research, the most powerful X-ray machine could produce only 140,000 volts.

"Our work always is concerned with obtaining enough radiation to destroy the diseased cells without harming the normal ones," she says.

In the manner of scientists, Dr. Quimby refuses to venture a prediction as to when—or whether—a final cure for all cancers will be found.

She does, however, have some strong opinions about scareheads who issue alarms about radiation danger, frightening the general public.

"People have been unduly alarmed by stories of radiation damage," she says. "Many get so panicky they actually are afraid to have their teeth or chest X-rayed. This is pure nonsense. Any doctor qualified to give radiation knows how to protect his patient and himself."

Approximately 10 per cent of the engagement rings sold in the United States are bought by couples already married.

Yanks Expected To Go Abroad In Large Flocks

War Scores on Wane, Vacationists Eye Trips to Europe

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — More Americans than ever are expected to seek fun and culture overseas this year—and to spend more money in the pursuit. All of the big three tourist outlets—Europe, Far East and Latin America—are in on the boom.

In the first two months of the year this wasn't so for Europe. Bookings were trailing last year by as much as 20 per cent, travel agencies, airlines and steamship companies report. Touring abroad was cooled by fears of war and of gasoline and other shortages. As a byproduct travel to Latin America and the Far East took a sudden spurt.

Then sentiment about Europe changed sharply. The war scared down. Gasoline rationing all but disappeared. Where it survives, tourists get special rations.

Rush for reservations in the last month leads transportation firms to predict overseas travel will be up around 10 per cent. Both airlines and surface lines are adding equipment to handle the peak summer rush.

"The dollar shortage in Europe is so pressing this year," American Express president Ralph T. Reed says, "that special efforts are being made to keep the American tourist comfortable and happy."

"The American traveler is assured of ample supplies of gasoline across Western Europe, including Great Britain and France where rationing for local nationals is in force. Car rentals continue as usual. Hotel accommodations are generally better than in 1956. Prices in most European countries may be slightly higher than last year."

The Pacific Travel Area Assn., covering 18 countries, says advance bookings indicate a continuing rise in travel to the Orient. Americans spent about 45 million dollars on this last year, up about 35 per cent over 1955.

George Killian, president of the American President Lines which has a program for 24 new vessels over the next 20 years, says reservations are up 25 per cent over last year.

Randolph Sevier, Matson Navigation Co. president, says new ships on Pacific routes will give the Pacific a chance to rival the Atlantic.

Travel to South America should be up 25 per cent this year. American Express predicts. Both surface and air lines are booking more tours.

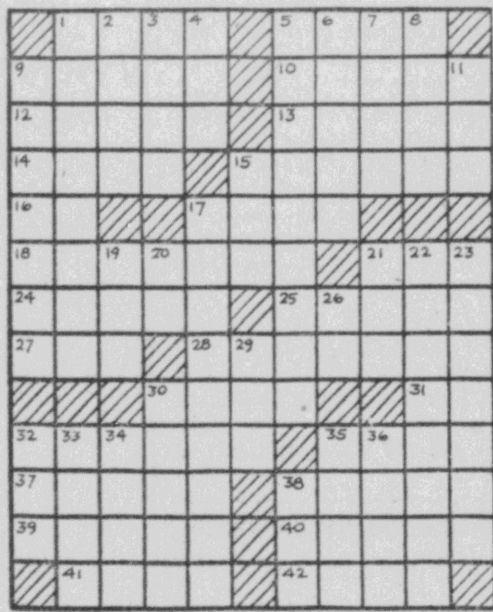

4 Armed Teens Held in Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP)—Police spotted a car full of teenagers shortly after a dairy bar holdup early today and arrested four 17-year-old youths they said were armed with two revolvers.

Officers said the $72 loot from the dairy bar and the weapons, stolen in a recent burglary, were recovered in the youths' car.

Harvey Kuenn Still Big Gun For Detroiters

Old Reliable at 26, Outfielder's Big Bat Defeats Redlegs, 8-4

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
It may be true, as Manager Jack Tighe says, that some of his Detroit Tigers are not earning their keep.

But he couldn't have been referring to Harvey Kuenn, an old reliable at 26. No matter how bad the Bengals get, Kuenn, a 332-hitter last year, goes his cool and calm way.

He already has hit three home runs this spring, including one in Tuesday's 8-4 victory over the Cincinnati Redlegs at Lakeland, Fla.

In fact, if it weren't for Kuenn's efforts against the Redlegs, the Tigers would have gone down to another defeat. In addition to his home run, he crashed out a single and two doubles for a perfect day at bat.

But the Tigers, who are rated one of the New York Yankees' main stumbling blocks in the pennant chase, still have a poor record — six victories and 10 defeats.

The Cleveland Indians, who also fancy themselves as contenders, are also having troubles. They went down to another defeat — this one a 7-6 decision to the Baltimore Orioles — at Scottsdale, Ariz.

The Orioles won the game in the ninth inning on Wayne Coney's two-run pinch single and another single by rookie Brooks Robinson.

Elsewhere, the Brooklyn Dodgers defeated the Philadelphia Phillies 8-3 at Clearwater; the New York Giants nipped the Chicago Cubs 7-6 at Mesa, Ariz.; the Pittsburgh Pirates whitewashed the St. Louis Cardinals 4-0 at St. Petersburg; the Washington Senators turned back the Kansas City A's 8-7 at Orlando; and the Boston Red Sox edged the Los Angeles Angels of the Pacific Coast League 6-5 in Los Angeles.

The Dodgers got to left-handed Harvey Haddix for eight straight hits and seven runs in the third inning. Don Newcombe went six innings for the Dodgers and was touched for all the Phillies' runs. Don Mueller turned an apparent defeat into victory for the Giants when he hit a grand slam home run off Turk Lown with two out in the ninth.

Dick Hall, Nelson King and Elroy Face divided the Pirate shut-out over the Cards. Combined, they allowed only two hits.

Kansas City had four home runs against the Senators, including two by Yank castoff Bob Cerv, but they couldn't cash in. The Nats had the big one, a grand slammer by Harmon Killebrew.

Toledo Race Track Slated for Opening

TOLEDO (AP)—An extensive remodeling and rebuilding project at Fort Miami race track will be completed by the time the track's 44-day meeting opens Tuesday. Toledo Turf Club, Inc. announcing this Tuesday, said the improvement program follows a delay by the Ohio Racing Commission in granting dates for this season at the track. The commission insisted that certain facilities be improved.

Rosewell Topples Mighty Gonzales

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Ken Rosewell, the little master craftsman from Australia, toppled Panchito Gonzales of California Tuesday night to trim Gonzales' lead on their international professional tennis tour to 27-11.

Rosewell, after a shaky start, executed his sharp, line-cutting passing shots with near perfect precision to whip Gonzales, 1-6, 6-2, 6-3.

In the other singles match, Panchito Segura outshot Dinny Pails in a single professional set.

Heavier Cut Of Race Bets Gets Approval

COLUMBUS (AP)—The House Agriculture Committee has recommended, 18-1, passage of a bill to boost the "take out" on race track wagers and spread the money around to Ohio's county fairs, to track operators and to the state treasury.

The bill, by Rep. Fred Cassel (R-Wyandot) would "tap the kitty" (the fund from which race track bet winnings are paid) by 15 per cent.

Present "take out" from betting pools at running horse tracks is 13 1/2 per cent. The bill would boost the "take out" on harness race tracks from 15 to 15 1/2 per cent.

Practically everyone involved except the better would benefit. The better would lose because the "take out" increase would come from the fund which pays him off if he wins.

The bill increases the commission on wagers the harness tracks may keep by an estimated $157,000 a year. Running track operators would profit by an estimated $526,000 a year.

The state would get $369,000 a year in additional taxes.

Each county and independent fair would get $2,500 and each fair would get another $2,500 for race purse money and another $500 for maintaining their tracks. County fairs would get $2,000 more apiece for conducting state races.

The Ohio State Fair would benefit to the extent of $80,000.

Bike Riders Derided By Race Manager

CHICAGO (AP)—Six-day bicycle racing isn't what it used to be.

"In the old days the riders were athletes," says promotion man Harry Sperber, who has been connected with the sport 30 years.

"Today they are prima donnas. I can remember the old days when riders got off their bikes to shovel coal into furnaces to heat the buildings. Now they get off their bikes to squawk about the food."

The six-day races which up their U. S. tour tonight at the International Amphitheatre, Sperber says the Chicago venture will be operated at a loss of $15,000 to $20,000 with attendance totalling only 25,000 for the six days.

"We had only 10,000 to 15,000 persons at Louisville before we came here," he said. "We lost about $35,000 or more there. But our overall loss won't be too bad. Thanks to Cleveland. We drew 57,000 people there."

Out of the original 12 teams starting in the Chicago marathon, only six were left Tuesday night. "That isn't so unusual," Sperber explained. "Injuries, fatigue, sickness and just plain temperament usually cuts into the field."

"A couple of Europeans quit because they were mad that the kitchen was late in opening. Others complained of the food and quit in a huff. A Frenchman who quit said he was used to drinking his native wine at mealtime instead of milk."

3-Cushion Billiard Tourney Awaited

CHICAGO (AP)—Joe Chamaco of Mexico City and champion Harold Worst of Grand Rapids, Mich., will meet for the world's three cushion billiards championship here starting Saturday night.

The two will play a 1,200 point title match. The match, originally scheduled in Mexico City five weeks, was postponed and transferred here with a return match scheduled for Mexico next fall.

Giardello Favored To Defeat Vaughn

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Ring-wise Joey Giardello of Brooklyn is favored to win tonight over Willie Vaughn of Los Angeles in their televised 10-round bout.

Ranked No. 2 among middleweights, Giardello has won his last seven fights and has a record of 67-13-5. He is 26 years old.

Vaughn, 24, is the West Coast 160-pound champion but is not rated among the top 10 middleweights. His record is 32-13-4.

Giardello says he is trying to prove he is a logical choice for a title bout with the winner of the Gene Fullmer-Sugar Ray Robinson championship fight.

Pro Cage Team Studies Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP)—Les and Jack Harrison, who seek to shift their pro basketball Rochester Royals team to Cincinnati, said "it looks very hopeful and we're getting along" after a conference here Tuesday.

The Harrison brothers conferred with officers of Cincinnati Garden, where any pro team would hold its games. Les Harrison said they are looking at other cities, and may reach a decision soon.

Seattle '5' Enters AAU Cage Tourney

DENVER (AP)—The defending champion Seattle Bakers entered the 50th National AAU Basketball war for the first time today, intent on avoiding upsets at the hands of a steady bunch of first round survivors.

Half of the 16 teams competing in today's busy second round will be around for the quarterfinals of the week-long tourney Thursday.

Tuesday night's lightly regarded Brownstown, Ind., featuring former All-America Don Schlundt, knocked off the Marine All-Stars in a feature tilt, 67-63.

The Army and Air Force showed class and scoring punch in their debuts. The soldiers crushed little Ouachita Baptist College of Arkadelphia (Ark.) 107-76, and the Air Force outtraced Columbus, Ohio, 94-64.

A classy bunch of small-college stars from Joliet, Ill., spilled Jacksonville, Fla., 63-54, and in a re-play of their game 24 hours earlier, Seattle Autos beat Cedar Rapids, Iowa, 82-69.

The re-play was ordered by tourney officials who earlier had disqualified Seattle Autos for using three players considered ineligible. On grounds the team had acted in good faith in recruiting the trio, however, it was allowed the second contest and the use of one of the three players.

Miami Basketball Stars Get Honors

OXFORD (AP)—Wayne Embry, 6-foot-7 senior center walked off with the lion's share of awards Tuesday night when Miami University's basketball squad was honored by the Oxford Roundball Club. Embry was named most valuable player and won the top overall efficiency award.

Jim Thomas, 6-foot-3 sophomore guard, won the free throw award with a .82 average—69 of 84 tries.

Harvey Kuenn Still Big Gun For Detroiters

Old Reliable at 26, Outfielder's Big Bat Defeats Redlegs, 8-4

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
It may be true, as Manager Jack Tighe says, that some of his Detroit Tigers are not earning their keep.

But he couldn't have been referring to Harvey Kuenn, an old reliable at 26. No matter how bad the Bengals get, Kuenn, a .332 hitter last year, goes his cool and calm way.

He already has hit three home runs this spring, including one in Tuesday's 8-4 victory over the Cincinnati Redlegs at Lakeland, Fla.

In fact, if it weren't for Kuenn's efforts against the Redlegs, the Tigers would have gone down to another defeat. In addition to his home run, he crashed out a single and two doubles for a perfect day at bat.

But the Tigers, who are rated one of the New York Yankees' main stumbling blocks in the pennant chase, still have a poor record — six victories and 10 defeats.

The Cleveland Indians, who also fancy themselves as contenders, are also having troubles. They went down to another defeat — this one a 7-6 decision to the Baltimore Orioles — at Scottsdale, Ariz.

The Orioles won the game in the ninth inning on Wayne Causey's two-run pinch single and another single by rookie Brooks Robinson.

Elsewhere, the Brooklyn Dodgers defeated the Philadelphia Phillies 8-3 at Clearwater; the New York Giants nipped the Chicago Cubs 7-6 at Mesa, Ariz.; the Pittsburgh Pirates whitewashed the St. Louis Cardinals 4-0 at St. Petersburg; the Washington Senators turned back the Kansas City A's 8-7 at Orlando; and the Boston Red Sox edged the Los Angeles Angels of the Pacific Coast League 6-5 in Los Angeles.

The Brooks got to left-hander Harvey Haddix for eight straight hits and seven runs in the third inning. Don Newcombe went six innings for the Dodgers and was touched for all the Phillies' runs.

Don Mueller turned an apparent defeat into victory for the Giants when he hit a grand slam home run off Turk Lown with two out in the ninth.

Dick Hall, Nelson King and Elroy Face did the Pirate shut-out over the Cards. Combined, they allowed only two hits.

Kansas City had four home runs against the Senators, including two by Yank castoff Bob Cerv, but they couldn't cash in. The Nats had the big one, a grand slammer by Harmon Killebrew.

Toledo Race Track Slated for Opening

TOLEDO (AP)—An extensive remodeling and rebuilding project at Fort Miami race track will be completed by the time the track's 44-day meeting opens Tuesday.

Toledo Turf Club, Inc. announcing this Tuesday, said the improvement program follows a delay by the Ohio Racing Commission in granting dates for this season at the track. The commission insisted that certain facilities be improved.

Rosewell Topples Mighty Gonzales

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Ken Rosewell, the little master craftsman from Australia, toppled Pancho Gonzales of California Tuesday night to trim Gonzales' lead on their international professional tennis tour to 27-11.

Rosewell, after a shaky start, executed his sharp, line-eating passing shots with near perfect precision to whip Gonzales, 1-6, 6-2, 6-3.

In the other singles match, Pancho Segura outshot Denny Pails in a single professional set.

Heavier Cut Of Race Bets Gets Approval

COLUMBUS (AP)—The House Agriculture Committee has recommended, 18-1, passage of a bill to boost the "take out" on race track wagers and spread the money around to Ohio's county fairs, to track operators and to the state treasury.

The bill, by Rep. Fred Cassel (R-Wyandot) would "tap the kitty" (the fund from which race track bet winnings are paid) by 15 per cent.

Present "take out" from betting pools at running horse tracks is 13 1/2 per cent. The bill would boost the "take out" to harness race tracks from 15 to 15 1/2 per cent.

Practically everyone involved except the better would benefit. The better would lose because the "take out" increase would come from the fund which pays him off if he wins.

The bill increases the commission on wagers the harness tracks may keep by an estimated $157,000 a year. Running track operators would profit by an estimated $256,000 a year.

The state would get $369,000 a year in additional taxes.

Each county and independent fair would get $2,500 and each fair would get another $2,500 for race purse money and another $500 for maintaining their tracks. County fairs would get $2,000 more apiece for conducting stake races.

The Ohio State Fair would benefit to the extent of $60,000.

Bike Riders Derided By Race Manager.

CHICAGO (AP)—Six-day bicycle racing isn't what it used to be.

"In the old days the riders were athletes," says promotion man Farry Sperber, who has been connected with the sport 30 years.

"Today they are prima donnas. I can remember the old days when riders got off their bikes to shovel coal into furnaces to heat the buildings. Now they get off their bikes to squawk about the food."

The six-day races will start their U. S. tour tonight at the International Amphitheatre. Sperber says the Chicago venture will be operated at a loss of $15,000 to $20,000 with attendance totaling only 25,000 for the six days.

"We had only 10,000 to 15,000 persons at Louisville before we came here," he said. "We lost about $35,000 or more there. But our overall loss won't be too bad. Thanks to Cleveland. We drew 57,000 people there."

Out of the original 12 teams starting in the Chicago marathon, only six were left Tuesday night.

"That isn't so unusual," Sperber explained. "Injuries, fatigue, sickness and just plain temperament usually cut into the field."

"A couple of Europeans quit because they were mad that the kitchen was late in opening. Others complained of the food and quit in a huff. A Frenchman who quit said he was used to drinking his native wine at mealtime instead of milk."

3-Cushion Billiard Tourney Awaited

CHICAGO (AP)—Joe Chamaco of Mexico City and champion Harold Worst of Grand Rapids, Mich., will meet for the world's three cushion billiards championship here starting Saturday night.

The two will play a 1,200 point title match. The match, originally scheduled in Mexico City five weeks, was postponed and transferred here with a return match scheduled for Mexico next fall.

Giardello Favored To Defeat Vaughn

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Ring-wise Joey Giardello of Brooklyn is favored to win tonight over Willie Vaughn of Los Angeles in their televised 10-round bout.

Ranked No. 2 among middleweights, Giardello has won his last seven fights and has a record of 67-13-5. He is 26 years old.

Vaughn, 24, is the West Coast 160-pound champion but is not rated among the top 10 middleweights. His record is 32-13-4.

Giardello says he is trying to prove he is a logical choice for a title bout with the winner of the Gene Fullmer-Sugar Ray Robinson championship fight.

Taft told a group of elementary school principals Monday night that the democratic system evolved from early religious groups before the American revolution, in which freedom of expression had to be tolerated.

"They could never be sure," he said, "but what God was speaking through the member who had the floor," and they wound up with a decision acceptable to everyone.

Easter Basket Conceals Drugs

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—An Easter basket containing 13 ounces of pure heroin—each ounce carefully wrapped in colored foil to resemble an Easter egg—was seized by narcotics agents Tuesday.

George S. Maloney of the state Bureau of Narcotic Enforcement said the heroin would have had a retail value of $500,000.

State agents said they bought the heroin from Christopher DeOllas for $10,000 in marked bills in a hotel room.

DeOllas was charged with possession and sale of narcotics.

DWI Appeal Dismissed in Court Order

An appeal filed by John E. Miltstead, Washington C. H., following a Municipal Court conviction for driving while under the influence of alcohol, has been dismissed in Fayette County Common Pleas Court.

The entry, signed by Judge John P. Case, sustains a motion filed by the City of Washington C. H. which said that Miltstead failed to file his brief and assignments of error before the March 10 deadline.

The defendant appealed to Common Pleas Court after a Municipal Court jury, on Dec. 3, found him guilty on the charge. He was fined $200 and costs by Judge Max G. Dice, sentenced to 10 days in jail and his driver's license was suspended for a year.

Judge Case's order remands the case to Municipal Court for execution of sentence. Costs are assessed against the defendant.

But a few minutes after he climbed into the empty car in the Peoria yards, he said, someone slammed and locked the door.

Easter Basket Conceals Drugs

SAN FRANCISCO — An Easter basket containing 13 ounces of pure heroin—each ounce carefully wrapped in colored foil to resemble an Easter egg—was seized by narcotics agents Tuesday.

George S. Maloney of the State Bureau of Narcotic Enforcement said the heroin would have had a retail value of $500,000.

State agents said they bought the heroin from Christopher DeOllas for $10,000 in marked bills in a hotel room.

DeOllas was charged with possession and sale of narcotics.

DWI Appeal Dismissed in Court Order

An appeal filed by John E. Miltstead, Washington C. H., following a Municipal Court conviction for driving while under the influence of alcohol, has been dismissed in Fayette County Common Pleas Court.

The entry, signed by Judge John P. Case, sustains a motion filed by the City of Washington C. H. which said that Miltstead failed to file his brief and assignments of error before the March 10 deadline.

The defendant appealed to Common Pleas Court after a Municipal Court jury, on Dec. 3, found him guilty on the charge. He was fined $200 and costs by Judge Max G. Dice, sentenced to 10 days in jail and his driver's license was suspended for a year.

Judge Case's order remands the case to Municipal Court for execution of sentence. Costs are assessed against the defendant.

But a few minutes after he climbed into the empty car in the Peoria yards, he said, someone slammed and locked the door.

Parole Violator Tries Get Arrested

CINCINNATI — Police arrested John R. Laymire, 55, Tuesday after he heaved a brick and a bottle through a service station window and told officers "he wanted to get arrested."

But it was wasted energy. Laymire could have achieved his wish just by walking to the nearest police station. Officers said he's been sought since 1951 as a parole violator in a burglary case.
